FRASER RAPIDLY RISES AFTER SLIGHT FALL

David Spencer Dies To-day Following Lingering Illness

Well-known Native Son Succumbs at His Home, "The Rocks," Cook Street

Was Member of Pioneer Firm and Contributed Much to Upbuilding

Victoria lost one of its most popular business men in the passing at 11.30 o'clock this morning of David Scott Spencer at his home, "The Rocks," Cook Street, after an illness of several months. Mr. Spencer was a member of a pioneer family, whose name has been prominently identified with the progress of British Columbia, the firm having grown from modest proportions in Victoria many years ago until today, when it owns a chain of department stores in Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo, as well as other interests in the province.

"Dave" Spencer, as he was familiarly known, was born in Victoria on September 30, 1869, the second child in the family of thirteen of the late David Spencer and Mrs. Spencer of "Llanerwen," Moss Street. Mr. Spencer Sr. arrived in British Columbia from England in 1862, and shortly afterwards started business with a small book and stationery store, later launching into the dry goods business and eventually becoming the pioneer department store proprietor in British Columbia.

One after another, as they reached maturity, the late Mr. Spencer's sons joined him in the store and helped in the development of the progressive policy and high standard which has always been maintained in their business dealings. Educated in the Victoria public schools, David Spencer Jr. was sent by his father in August, 1892, to England to learn the mercantile business in London. He returned to Victoria in August, 1893, having laid the firm foundations of the expert knowledge which has been such a valuable asset to the firm.

The gold discoveries in the Yukon fired the adventurous spirit of Mr. Spencer, and in 1897 he left for the north in search of fortune, remaining there until the spring of 1898. While in the north he experienced many vicissitudes and contracted typhoid fever so seriously that his life was despaired of. His iron constitution, however, enabled him to pull through, and until the final illness which ended in his death to-day, he enjoyed robust health.

The rapid development of the business brought in its train such heavy responsibilities for the members of the firm that Mr. Spencer was unable to take an active part in public affairs. Although his valuable advice and wholehearted generosity were always at the service of any cause redounding to the benefit of Victoria. No appeal was ever unheeded by him, and among the many who will mourn the passing of a friend will be the inmates of the Aged Men's Home, to whom Mr. Spencer, in company with Fred Landsberg, paid a regular monthly visit, distributing monetary and other gifts.

Mr. Spencer was a consistent supporter of the B.C. Agricultural Association, of which for a time he was president. He will be remembered for his active interest in the annual exhibitions of that organization which owed their success very considerably to

NEW HOLIDAY PLAN MOOTED

City Council Hears Proposal to Celebrate Birthday of Prince

Uncertainty of May 24 Weather Results in New Idea For Holiday

Observance of the birthday of the Prince of Wales as Victoria's main holiday of the year instead of May 24, although retaining the spirit of Empire Day, was proposed by Alderman H. O. Litchfield at the meeting of the City Council yesterday evening.

Based chiefly on the fact that climatic conditions on May 24 have been unsuitable for outdoor celebrations in recent years, his proposal was that the main civic holiday be on June 23, the date of the Prince's birth and that the memory of Queen Victoria be revered at simpler ceremonies on May 24.

His plan was outlined in three parts, as follows: "That Empire Sunday, being the Sunday just previous to May 24, should be observed, by our citizens, as an inspirational and dedicatory day, keeping before us the vision and needs of the British Empire."

That May 24 might well be observed by our school children, and the public generally, gathering in such suitable locations, as may be thought desirable for such ceremonies as the saluting of our flag.

That our civic holiday and open air gala festival, be transferred to June 23 of each year, this date being the birthday of H.R.H. Edward, Prince of Wales."

Discussion of free service to indigent persons arose through assertions of some council members that doctors in many areas, particularly in industrial centers where large numbers of persons are unemployed, are financially embarrassed.

Members of the council, however, made it clear free service to those unable to pay had persisted through immemorial custom and has become almost a tenet of the medical profession, although a doctor was bound to adhere to medical law.

Wellington, New Zealand, June 21.—Rt. Hon. J. G. Coates, Minister of Public Works and former Prime Minister of New Zealand, will head the Dominion's delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, despite earlier reports he would not be able to make the journey on account of domestic issues.

Premier G. W. Forbes, head of the National Coalition Government, will not attend at Ottawa.

Council Deadlocked Or Sweepstake Vote

Five Aldermen Favor Move For Plebiscite on Legalization of Drawings

Mayor and Four Others Vote Against Motion to Go Before Municipal Union

With one alderman absent, the City Council reached a deadlock yesterday evening on a proposal for having a province-wide plebiscite on the question of applying to the Dominion Government for legalization of sweepstakes for hospitals.

The question was raised in a resolution sponsored by the council of Salmon Arm, B.C., for submission to the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities which opens in Nelson next Saturday.

Nanaimo Favors Taking of Vote On Sweepstakes

Nanaimo, June 21.—The city council yesterday evening endorsed a resolution by the Salmon Arm city council: "That the provincial government be petitioned by the Union of B.C. Municipalities that a plebiscite be taken at the next provincial election regarding the legalization of sweepstakes for hospitals and charitable purposes."

It is endorsed by the people, the provincial government will be asked to present the case to the federal government for legislation and enactment.

A. S. Coburn, president of the Canadian Legion, was granted permission to hold a parade here on August 4 in connection with the reunion of returned men of Vancouver Island.

Garage by-law No. 513 was amended. Alderman Cavally was appointed acting mayor during the absence of Mayor Barbey at the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention at Nelson.

VOTE SOUGHT IN VANCOUVER

Sweepstake Issue Before Council; Plebiscite at Provincial Election Urged

North Vancouver, June 21.—The North Vancouver council is in favor of sending a request to the government of British Columbia that at next election a plebiscite be taken regarding legalization of sweepstakes, and that if the vote is favorable, the government be asked to take the necessary steps to present the case to the Dominion government.

The problem of whether or not the council, if it should ask the provincial government to submit a plebiscite, would be expressing itself in favor of sweepstakes, took up considerable time at the council meeting yesterday evening. Finally, before passing the resolution, the council added a statement that it was not expressing an opinion on the question of sweepstakes.

REQUEST TO UNION

The city council of Salmon Arm started the argument by submitting a resolution adopted by it, expressing itself strongly in favor of sweepstakes and asking the government be petitioned as above through the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

RAIN TO GIVE PICKERS JOBS

Twice as Many Berry Gatherers Will Be Needed When Precipitation Stops

Moisture Highly Beneficial to Crops; Eleven Carloads Shipped East

Providing the rain does not continue for four or five days more, strawberry growers of Vancouver Island will need extra help. Owners of berry farms will employ double the number of pickers there were gathering the fruit before the downpours set in early yesterday, according to W. W. Duncan of Saanich.

"If the rain stops to-day, it should be beneficial," he said. "It will renew the vitality of the patches and will bring out berries which would never have matured if the moisture had held off for a longer time. The precipitation will also be beneficial to the young plants for next year's crop."

TO PROCESS NEXT PICKING

No crates would be on the market at the next picking. The fruit which will be picked will be too soft for crating, and will be processed at the jam factories.

Mr. Duncan emphasized the fact that growers would make a great demand for pickers as soon as the weather cleared. Any unemployed would have little difficulty in securing work at the different farms, he declared.

Up to date eleven cars of berries, totalling 8,900 crates, have been shipped east, he said. The berries would be of a higher quality now than they had been at the beginning of the season, owing to the rain.

ABOLISH POST OF AGENT-GENERAL

Sydney, Australia, June 21.—The state of New South Wales is abolishing the post of Agent-General for the state in London. The United Australia Party cabinet has decided to recall A. C. Willis, Agent-General, and appoint in his stead a "trade representative," the move expected to save approximately $45,000 annually.

LIQUOR STORE SAFE BLOWN

Thieves at Duncan Get $200 Cash and Fourteen Cases of Liquor

Special to The Times

Duncan, June 21.—Safeblowers wrecked the strong box of the government liquor store here yesterday evening, extracted approximately $200 in cash and then carried away fourteen cases of liquor in one of the most spectacular robberies in Duncan for some years.

Provincial police, investigating this morning, believe the job was done by experts. Although no vehicles were seen, it is surmised the thieves had a truck or automobile to carry away the liquor.

The possibility that a launch was used to getaway from Maple Bay or some other nearby point on the gulf was also considered.

Sub-Inspector Bob Owen of Provincial Police at Victoria took charge of the investigation with local officers.

The theft was discovered when the store was opened for business this morning.

HOAX CAUSED POLICE HUNT

Washington Knows Who Reported Men Headed For White House With Explosives

Associated Press

Washington, June 21.—Washington police and federal authorities were convinced to-day they had been hoaxed by an irresponsible person who reported an automobile load of explosives was being brought to the United States capital, possibly to blow up the White House.

Though placing no credence in the source of the report, police made an all night search of cars answering the description but without result.

Though some of the squads from different states had started homeward, the police superintendent to-day expressed the opinion it was the intention of the leaders to keep 8,000 or 9,000 men encamped on Anacosta flats for an indefinite period in a determined effort to bring about payments of the proposed bonus, which for all the United States would total $2,400,000,000. The bill passed by the House was rejected last week by the Senate.

SPORTS EXTRA ON BIG FIGHT

In order to provide its readers with an extra service, the Times this evening will publish a sports extra. The edition, carrying a round-by-round description of the bout as well as all the highlights, will be on the streets a few minutes after the finish of the fight. If the fight goes fifteen rounds it should be over by 7 o'clock Victoria time. All the latest news on other sports events late to-day, will also be included.

FARES TO BE ARBITRATED

Board Expected Soon to Rule on Differences Between Vancouver and B.C.E.R.

City Council Wants Cash Fare After July 8 to Be Six Cents

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 21.—The B.C. Electric Railway Company has formally declined to entertain the Vancouver council's proposals that the present 7-cent cash street car fare be dropped to 6 cents in the impending agreement, and that six tickets be sold for 35 cents instead of four for 25 cents.

W. G. Murrin, B.C.E.R. president, replied to this overture in a letter received at the city hall to-day. He insisted on his former stand that fares cannot be reduced in justice to the company.

A special meeting of the council has been called for 10 a.m. to-morrow, at which the aldermen will debate their future action. Unless differences can be compromised, arbitration is certain. The present agreement will expire July 8.

PRESIDENT'S PROPOSALS

Mr. Murrin's only variations from present street car fares are:

1. An offer to allow two children to travel on one adult ticket at any hour.

2. A proposal to sell eighteen instead of seventeen tickets for $1, good for adults in non-rush hours.

He suggested these during protracted negotiations with aldermen during the last few months.

SEAPLANE BASE MEETING SOON

Arrangements Now Under Way For Conference on Harbor Seaplane Use

The conference between interested parties to settle the controversy over use of Victoria Harbor as an operating base for seaplanes will be held in the near future, it was indicated in advice received at the City Hall this morning from Col. A. W. R. Wilby, marine agent for the Dominion Government here.

Col. J. C. Brown, Pacific Coast manager for the Canadian National Steamship line, at Vancouver, will represent the company at the gathering, and the Department of National Defence will be represented by Carter Guest, district inspector of air regulations. Col. Wilby will represent the Marine Department.

Alderman W. D. Todd, chairman of the business and trade development committee of the City Council, and member of the advisory air board, will attend on behalf of the city. B. H. B. Ker is chairman of the board, with Alderman W. T. Strath, Major D. B. McLaren and W. J. Moffatt.

It is expected the conference will be held in Victoria. Arrangements regarding the date are pending.

After Dropping Three Inches at Mission, Fraser Suddenly Starts to Rise Again and Gauge Shows It Up Nine Inches in Twelve Hours

WEATHER IN B.C. INTERIOR WARM

Canadian Press

New Westminster, June 21.—After dropping three inches yesterday, the Fraser River suddenly started to rise during the evening, and by 8 o'clock this morning had recorded a rise of nine inches, and passed the nineteen-foot mark at the Mission gauge. Dikes along the lower reaches of the river are built to withstand a rise of more than twenty-one feet before flooding becomes imminent.

The sharp rise was caused by high temperatures at the headwaters of the north and south Thompson Rivers and rain, with mild temperatures, at the headwaters of the Fraser as far north as Prince George.

George Dixon, dikeing commissioner, to-day said all dikes of the lower districts were holding, but guards were constantly on the watch for seepage.

Drainage ditches in South Westminster, east and west of the bridge, were overflowing owing to water backing up on account of the high level of the river.

MUCH LAND UNDER WATER

Reports from upstream were that the river was rising rapidly there, but was overflowing at many points where there was no agricultural land. This was taking part of the volume away from the main stream and assisting the situation meantime.

Along the Thompson rivers temperatures recorded Monday ranged from 72 degrees at Kamloops to 75 in the Rockies. Prince George reported 62 degrees, with .02 inch of rain. The heat wave extended to Calgary, where the thermometer registered 72 yesterday. South of the river at Nelson it was 71 and 75 at Cranbrook.

CITY SENDS STRONG BODY

Municipal Convention at Nelson Viewed Here as Highly Important

With the belief that the gathering will be one of the most momentous in the history of British Columbia cities, a strong delegation from Victoria will leave Thursday to attend the convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Nelson.

Mayor Leeming will head the council delegates, the others being Aldermen John A. Worthington, H. O. Litchfield, Alex. Feden and James Adam.

City Clerk M. F. Hunter and City Solicitor H. S. Pringle will attend the meeting of the Municipal Officers' Association, held at the same time. Mr. Pringle will take an active part in discussions regarding the new school act empowered by the Legislature last session which will be one of the highlights of the convention.

Unemployment relief, social service costs and educational costs are scheduled as the three main topics for the convention and since each embodies the financial relationship between the municipalities and the provincial government the arguments will be followed closely.

The convention dates are from June 25 to 28 inclusive, the Good Roads League also meeting on Saturday.

City Clerk Hunter will put before the meeting a proposed amendment to the Elections Act which would prohibit the soliciting of votes outside polling stations on municipal polling days and would prohibit distribution of cards or folders by candidates or workers on nomination day or polling day anywhere in a municipality.

CROP OUTLOOK STATED BRIGHT

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 21.—With necessary reservations, due to the presence of insect pests in dangerous numbers, and the absence of reserve moisture over wide areas, the grain crop crops still promise average yields per acre.

The Bureau of Statistics, in its fourth of a series of fifteen weekly telegraphic reports, to-day said that during the last week warm weather had stimulated growth so that most of the wheat was in shot blade, with earlier fields heading out.

NO AGREEMENT ON TEXTILES

Canadian and British Trade Spokesmen Separate After Montreal Conference

To Report to Governments Before Empire Gathering at Ottawa

Montreal, June 21.—Canadian and British representatives of the textile industries concluded their conference here today without reaching an agreement. The result of the conference will be submitted in reports giving the views of each side to the Canadian and British governments for use at the Imperial Economic Conference where, according to official statements issued to the press on behalf of the representatives, it is hoped an agreement on domestic animals, stood on the rocky can be reached.

Canadian Press
London, June 21.—A questioner in the Commons yesterday afternoon called the attention of the government to difficulties that have arisen in the discussions between representatives of the Lancashire textile industries and Canadian traders. It was suggested that the good offices of the overseas trade department be used to assist in the negotiations as a preliminary to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

Major J. Colville, secretary to the Overseas Trade Department, stated the department and the senior British trade commissioner in Canada had given all possible assistance to these discussions. He had no comment to make on the "difficulties" alleged to have arisen.

The secretary told another questioner the recent visit of the Scottish trade mission ship to Canada, the Letitia, was entirely successful. A number of orders had been received and arrangements had been concluded for additional agencies in Canada.

OTTAWA STATEMENT
Ottawa, June 21.—The feeling in Canada is to avoid any difficulties relative to the cotton industry which might hamper the success of the coming Imperial Economic Conference. No great difficulty exists in connection with the British cotton industry except that among some representatives who visited Ottawa there was an extreme thought that all British cotton goods might be allowed into Canada free. This would have the effect of scrapping the Canadian cotton industry, it is stated here.

With the very successful efforts which have been made for a wide development of the cotton industry in this country, it is stated it is not considered by the government there should be a sacrifice of the Canadian industry, but the idea in mind is that considerable advantage can be given to the British cotton industry over all foreign competition. The difficulties, if they may be termed such, are described as due to the problems arising out of the present world-wide abnormal conditions.

FIRES SWEEP LARGE AREAS

Heavy Clouds of Smoke Hang Over Districts of Quebec

Forests and Settlers' Homes Disappear as Wind Drives Flames

Chicoutimi, Que., June 21.—Forest fires raged along the banks of the Saguenay River today. A heavy curtain of dense smoke hung over the woods.

A red wall of fire was marching on a forty-mile front along the banks of the Saguenay River. In Ferland township a stiff wind had given the fire free rein.

In the counties of Chicoutimi, Lake St. John and Roberval the danger was greatest. Heavy damage already had been done to valuable timber land and many settlers' homes had disappeared.

DOCTORS DEBATE FREE SERVICE

Figures for 1930, the last available, purported to show Canadian doctors had given $10,000,000 worth of medical attention for which they received no pay. This year, some members believed the amount would be trebled or quadrupled.

HEALTH INSURANCE
The council reached a decision the association would not take the initiative in a move toward Dominion-wide compulsory health insurance.

It decided, however, that it would collect all possible information bearing on the subject and await developments. The government, it held, was logically the prime mover in the step to bring about national health insurance.

Recommendations of the committee on cancer research were not adopted. Decision against the recommendation arose from the stand that such a move would mean considerable duplication of work being done already in five provinces of the Dominion.

THUGS HUNTED IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, June 21.—While the attendant on the premises was working in the yard, an unknown thief stole $68 yesterday morning from the safe of a drawer of McKewen's Service Station on West Broadway.

Theft of $54 in cash and $35 in clothes was reported to police by Home Woods, Granville Street.

Goods valued at $1,350 were taken by burglars from F. C. Pink, whose home on Napier Street, was broken into June 19, according to a report made to police Monday. The prowlers also obtained $42 in cash.

Breaking into the Sunnyside Cafe on Main Street, thieves carried off $30 worth of cigarettes.

Premises of the Pacific Milling Co. on Keefer Street were entered and a ton of wheat stolen.

A typewriter was stolen from the Pacific Bottle Co. on Venable Street.

A window in Mac's Shoes Store on Howe Street was broken early Monday morning and three pairs of shoes taken.

A pickpocket robbed W. R. Graham, West Fourth Avenue, of a pocketbook containing $5 and papers.

A sneak-thief stole a purse in which were $12 and papers from Miss Nellie Falconer, employed in the school board offices, Hamilton and Dunsmyth Streets.

The labor man asked whether in view of the fact conditions of employment affected the prices of commodities within the Empire it was not possible to put the subject on the agenda of the Imperial Economic Conference.

SERVICE TOPIC OF ROTARIANS

International Delegates in Seattle Debate Objectives in Ethical Work

President and Founder Give Inspiring Addresses at Gatherings

Associated Press
Seattle, June 21.—Under the flags of many nations, symbolic of its world-wide home, Rotary International turned to-day to consideration of the question in which it is most interested, community service and high ethical standards in all professions and business. Delegates to the twenty-third annual convention, held in the Civic Auditorium here, heard a message from the founder, Paul P. Harris, Chicago lawyer, reports of officers and addresses on vocational service, literacy, community service and work among boys.

During the afternoon vocational service craft assembly was held. District and reunion dinners are scheduled for this evening.

The world needed another renaissance, one as resolute as that which swept Europe for the last century, Mr. Harris told the convention.

"Let us have done with this worship of prosperity, let it go with us," he said. "In days of adversity prepare for prosperity, the supreme test of mankind."

He urged Rotarians to look at the list of prominent men "who have crashed the door to eternity" in 1932, which he termed the "suicide year."

"Contrast them," he said, with the pay in the city of Chicago. "Have the poor school teachers been committing suicide? No, they have not even struck. They have never suffered the depressing influence of prosperity. They have a cultural background—yes, resources within themselves."

HOPEFUL TREND
The optimism of the present economic upheaval, Rotary's founder insisted, there had been a turn to reading of better books, a new crowding of educational institutions, a reclamation of the radio, and a trend to simpler outdoor living.

Adversity purifies the blood stream," he said. Prosperity pollutes.

Rotary was seen as a rallying centre for the many diverse elements in society by Sidney W. Pascall of London, president, who related the adventures of his tour through Africa, India, Australia and New Zealand.

He pleaded with Rotarians to avoid "mental slackness and overdone effectiveness," and urged them to keep up the quality of membership. Rotary, he told them, must never lose its adaptability, never become standardized.

Addresses of welcome were given by Governor Roland H. Harley of Washington, and by Mayor John F. Dore of Seattle. Stone Cole, president of the Seattle Rotary, and Morgan Eastman of Vancouver, B.C., governor of the first district, Almon E. Roth of Palo Alto, California, immediate past president, in response referred to Rotary as "a great experiment in human relations," and said he hoped the organization had "found the key to better understanding among nations."

RESOLUTIONS HEARD
Some thirty resolutions were presented at the session yesterday evening. They will be acted on Thursday.

Among those offered were ones which would amend the constitution to include the same city; there were more than one district trade centre within the city limits; provide for election of all districts by vote of the entire convention and an additional class of membership to be known as "unattached," composed of men who had ceased to be members because of a change in business or residence; permit labor union representatives to become Rotarians; prohibit Rotary clubs from taking action on every matter which is referred to them by a public body; establish an annual "peace day" in Rotary; designate a week in the fall of 1933 in which to emphasize the duty of Rotarians to cast ballots in the first congressional election; appeal to Rotary clubs to try to influence their respective governments to replace world-wide economic warfare by international trade agreements, and urge Rotarians to support public officials.

The resolutions committee is headed by Raymond Knoepfel of New York city. Eight members include W. H. Andrews, London; G. Fred Birks, Sydney, Australia; and J. Lyman Turnbull, Vancouver, B.C.

MAY BROADEN DEBATE BASIS

Controversial Topics Suggested For Rotary By President of International

Associated Press
Seattle, June 21.—A suggestion Rotary may some time broaden its traditional policy of avoiding discussion of controversial questions was made by President Sydney W. Pascall of London in his annual report, given to-day before the Rotary International convention here.

"It has been recognized that Rotarians must be willing," he said, "to discuss controversial questions in the light of their own personal attitudes, even if they have a political bearing."

"We stand for understanding between man and man, between class and class, and between nation and nation. How can we understand one another if we only discuss matters on which we are agreed?"

"It is the merit of Rotary that Rotarians can talk over matters on which they differ profoundly and still remain friends—indeed become better friends than before."

Pointing out that "we are all parts of one complex, closely geared whole," he urged Rotarians to discuss common reactions to prosperity and depression.

Henry G. Bennett of Stillwater, Oklahoma, governor of the Twelfth District, appealed for contacts with the farmers on a basis of "genuine friendly sympathy."

DEPORTATION RULING ASKED

Supreme Court of Canada to Decide Cases of Men Held at Halifax

Halifax, June 21.—Preliminary steps will be taken to-morrow to carry to the Supreme Court of Canada appeals from the habeas corpus appeal of eight alleged communists held in Halifax for deportation.

A. E. Ryan, counsel for the men, was instructed by A. E. Smith, secretary of the Canadian Labor Delegation League, to carry the appeal to the highest court.

The eight men, included in a party gathered from widely separated parts of Canada and ordered deported because of alleged communist activities, sought release under habeas corpus, but their action was dismissed by Mr. Justice Carroll and by the full bench of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia.

Portland, Me., June 21.—Maine Republicans, five of whose representatives to the party's national convention at Chicago last week voted for a plank to repeal the 18th Amendment, to-day turned down a repeal supporter in the first congressional election.

Congressman Carroll L. Bandy of Portland, ardent dry, defeated Edward E. Chase, Cape Elizabeth, who had promised to work for repeal of the amendment. The vote yesterday, with nearly all precincts reported, was Bandy, 25,855; Chase, 13,673.

SOMETHING NEW IN THE BUGGY BUSINESS

Martin Soudack, owner of Baldwinville, N.Y., is not going to be bothered by bumpy, rut-filled roads. He bought two old automobiles for his two-wheeled cart the other day and the ultimate in comfort is now his. Incidentally, the whole contraption—both cart and tires—cost him $2.50.

RAIN GREETS B.C. VISITORS

But Enthusiasm of Tourists From England Not Dampened As They See Vancouver

Vancouver, June 21.—They were singing in the rain at Bowen Island yesterday evening when the British visitors touring British Columbia under government auspices were taken on a cruise as guests of the Union Steamship company.

The steady downpour did not daunt the Old Country people and they made the best of unpleasant weather conditions. "A little rain won't hurt us," they declared as the Lady Cynthia sailed at 7.30 o'clock. There was mist on the water, the view was negligible but there was happy comradeship. The walk through the woods to Mount Strahan Lodge was regarded as an interesting experience and the scent of honeysuckle reminded the visitors of their homeland.

R. Kerr Houlgate, chairman of the board of directors, Union Steamship Company, extended the official welcome and gave the visitors some facts about the island. Harold Brown, general manager of the company and chairman of the Vancouver Board of Trade, joined in the greeting.

S. McClay, chairman of the harbor board, and J. B. Thomson, harbor master, conveyed best wishes to the guests. "This visit to Canada has shown me that it needed courage, hard work and faith to develop this great country," he said. "Faith and courage must still be abundant and they form the best foundation on which to build."

W. H. Scundby, Reading, replied for the guests. "This visit to Canada has shown me that it needed courage, hard work and faith to develop this great country," he said. "Faith and courage must still be abundant and they form the best foundation on which to build."

On the homeward trip a sing-song was organized with Roy Hunter at the piano.

New Disarmament Angle Is Reported

nations would fall in line with its disarmament proposals.

But there was no foundation for this thesis, which if true would lend gatherings an importance attaching to no conference since the reparations treaties were drawn up. There was no ground, however, for the belief that the United States had indicated willingness to reopen the war debts question if Europe would agree with its disarmament proposals. Yet Premier Herriot could not accept the proposed limitation of effectiveness. Mr. Gibson could not see why the United States should be expected to make sacrifices in war debts while European expenditure on armaments continued at its present level.

So the conference ended. Shortly after breakfast to-day Premier MacDonald of Great Britain repeated his conversations with Premier Herriot. Premier MacDonald and the French Premier are endeavoring to reach common ground on reparations, which have been reserved only during the period of the Lausanne conference.

While Premier MacDonald stands by the policy of wiping the whole slate clean, Premier Herriot takes the ground a clean slate would impose on the French a relatively much higher price than on Britain, and is unable to accept the British stand. The French reparations plans are in the air.

In addition, the differences between Britain and Germany, hold up resumption of the formal reparations conference, a plenary meeting scheduled for to-day having been postponed for an uncertain time.

France argues she cannot forego the entire amount guaranteed by the Young plan, which still calls for about $80,000,000 annually from Germany for another thirty-seven years. And at the same time France admits the German contention that she cannot pay at present.

This morning both Premier MacDonald and Premier Herriot declined to comment on the new developments after they had talked together more than an hour.

HAGGLING IS NOT BASIS
In a statement to-day Mr. Coates strongly deprecated any suggestion the New Zealand delegation to the conference would be no more than a millstone around the neck of the British Empire and bargaining one. He referred also to the "mistaken impression in many circles abroad" that the Ottawa conference could simply consist of hagglings over reciprocal tariffs and preferences.

Alderman John Worthington said he was a "May 24 man" and would stick to it. The mistake that had been made was to make a two or three day celebration when one day was enough, he said.

Although agreeing with the remarks about the unsuitability of May 24, Alderman W. D. Todd declared he thought a celebration on June 23 would conflict with that of Canada's own day, July 1.

David Spencer Dies To-day Following Lingering Illness

His consistent influential support. He derived special pleasure from the horse show and frequently contributed trophies for this event. He also interested himself in the affairs of the district associations, by whose membership he was held in the highest esteem.

A keen sportsman, Mr. Spencer found recreation in fishing, until the last few years when pressure of business precluded his giving much time to his favorite sport.

He is survived by his widow, at the family residence, "The Rock," his mother; four brothers, Chris, J. William, T. A. and Col. Victor Spencer of Vancouver, and seven sisters, Mrs. F. W. Grant, Victoria; Mrs. Thos. J. McCrossan, Seattle; Mrs. G. H. Vickrey, New York; Mrs. G. G. McGee, Vancouver, and the Misses Agnes, Mary and Sara Spencer, Victoria.

PAY TRIBUTES
Tributes to the value of the late Mr. Spencer as a citizen were paid to-day by his high officials.

HON. JOSHUA HINCHLIFF
Acting Premier
"Mr. David Spencer was one of the outstanding members of one of the outstanding business firms of British Columbia," said Hon. Joshua Hinchliff, Acting Premier of the province, in the absence of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, who is in the United States.

Through their business enterprise, the Spencer family have carved a place for themselves that has gone down in the history of British Columbia's development. As a result of their own personal attempts to their duties, the family firm grew from a small beginning. Dave, as he was known to almost every one in Victoria, was himself always ready for his country's service, his efficiency and for the spirit of service which guided all his business relations with the public. As one of our key business men, Mr. Spencer will be greatly missed."

MAYOR LEEMING
"In the death of Mr. Dave Spencer, Victoria has lost one of its most progressive business men," said Mayor Leeming to-day. "I knew him intimately in business associations and have watched with interest the part he has taken in the commercial development of the community."

"Victoria as a whole will mourn the passing of one of its most enterprising native sons who has always worked in the interests of the city."

ROBERT W. MAYHEW
"I have had the privilege of knowing the late Mr. Dave Spencer for many years, and I deeply regret his death," said Robert W. Mayhew, president of the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Limited, and former president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

"He was a man of many excellent qualities that endeared him to a large proportion of the citizens of Victoria. His untimely passing, I am sure, will be mourned by many."

E. W. McMELEN
"Mr. Dave Spencer was undoubtedly one of the city's most worthy and faithful business men," said E. W. McMeilen, manager of the Bank of Montreal. "We all—and that means practically everybody in Victoria—and I am sure, liked Dave very much. He was highly esteemed in the life of Victoria."

The treasurer's report, read by Lawrence J. Burpee, was followed by the appointment of committees.

PLAN MOOTED

VOTE DELAYED
The council did not vote on the question whether to hold the celebration of the centenary of the British Empire on May 24 as a holiday, he said, "but in view of the experience of recent years there is no doubt that this date is a little early in the year for outdoor events."

"As regards the birthday of the Prince of Wales the Prince some day will be the most popular ruler the Empire has ever had. He is a Canadian citizen also and a Canadian landowner and I think we have the opportunity to be the first Canadian city to lay a foundation for the celebration of a great festival on his birthday."

Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins seconded the motion and spoke in similar vein, referring particularly to the way in which May 24 celebrations had been applied by rain.

Alderman John Worthington said he was a "May 24 man" and would stick to it. The mistake that had been made was to make a two or three day celebration when one day was enough, he said.

NEW MOVE IN
CANCER FIGHTCanadian Medical Council
Hears Chain of Committees
Suggested

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 21.—Health insurance and cancer research occupied most of yesterday's session of the council of the Canadian Medical Association, which is holding its sixty-third annual convention here in conjunction with the fifty-second annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association.

A committee on the cancer problem, headed by Dr. J. S. McEachern of Calgary, reported in favor of establishing a department of clinical research under auspices of the Canadian Medical Association.

This department, the report suggested, should contain a subdivision or cancer research organized with a central committee having under its jurisdiction provincial committees, which, in turn, would be responsible to local hospital cancer committees. This scheme would bring under unified control efforts now being made in cancer research by five Canadian provinces. Local committees would be established in all hospitals containing more than 100 beds. These committees would supply to the provincial committee full case histories of all cancer patients admitted to their wards. The provincial committee would keep complete files of all case histories and forward to the central committees such histories and data as they deemed merited further research. The question of public health, it was learned, brought forth considerable discussion at yesterday's closed session of the council. A number of doctors, many of whom were said to be men whose practices included considerable free service at hospitals, declared themselves in favor of compulsory health insurance, while others, said to be engaged largely in private practice, took the stand the Canadian Medical Association was not the proper body to take the initiative in such a move. The subject was raised further during a luncheon given the council by Dr. A. W. Primrose, Toronto, who was installed as president for the ensuing year.

At this luncheon, Dr. Alexander S. Munro, Vancouver, the retiring president, declared in his valedictory that health insurance would soon be a fact in Canada.

NEW BURNABY
FINANCE PLANS

Canadian Press
Edmonton, B.C., June 21.—Relief problems were discussed for two hours by the Burnaby council yesterday evening and it was finally decided to call a special meeting of the council to consider financing of direct relief in view of the attitude of the provincial government toward vouchers sent in May 1.

The treasurer reported to the council that as at May 1 vouchers accounted for $15,000 of the government's unpaid debt from May 1 to June 7, amounted to $57,532. Burnaby owes merchants on direct relief orders $68,275.

Reeve Pritchard read telegrams exchanged with Hon. J. W. Jones, provincial Minister of Finance, in which the position was made clear that the provincial government would advance no further funds to Burnaby.

HOOVER LOSES
BORAH'S ADIdaho Senator Says Republican
Prohibition Vote Plank
Is Misleading

Associated Press
Washington, June 21.—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, the man generally credited with doing so much as any one person to elect Herbert Hoover in 1928, is not supporting the President for re-election on the platform adopted by the party convention last week.

Mr. Borah's decision, which had been awaited by Republican chieftains, was given yesterday to a Senate which crowded tensely around him to hear his reaction to the prohibition plank adopted by the party at Chicago. It heard him condemn not only the prohibition plank but the entire platform as "wholly inadequate and wholly unresponsive to the necessities and demands of the people."

The outspoken prohibitionist served notice the liquor question would be carried to the people.

A few minutes later, when asked point blank if he would support President Hoover on the Chicago platform, Borah replied in three words: "I WILL NOT."

Mr. Borah declared the prohibition plank was adopted for political expediency "by a convention overwhelmingly in favor of outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment." He announced he would not be bound by the platform declaration "for a single moment," but would carry the issue to the people.

Later the Idahoan indicated to newspaper men he did not intend to proposed formation of a third party. His name has often been linked in political discussion with such a movement.

NO COMMENT
His declaration was quickly imparted to President Hoover, but there was no comment from the White House.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Borah made it plain, however, that his objections were not confined to the prohibition plank, though he devoted most of his speech to that subject. "Without questioning anybody's patriotism, or stopping to analyze the platform itself," he said, "I choose to leave aside a document which, with the exception of one plank, fell dead at the feet of the American people, eliciting scarcely a favorable comment from the party press and arousing not the slightest concern or attention from the public generally."

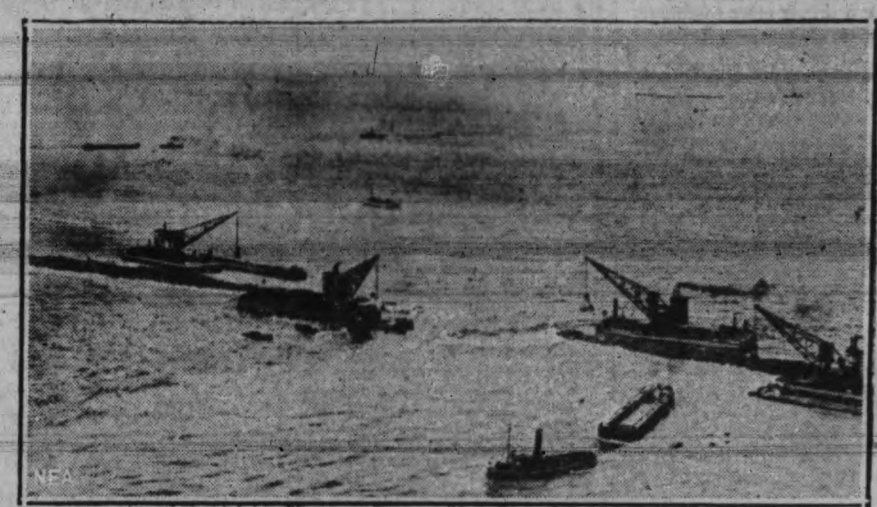

Mr. Borah said the two men "who had most to do with drafting the platform, Postmaster-General Walter P. Brown and Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills, were 'openly and uncompromisingly for repeal.'"

SECRETAIRES POSITION
Washington, June 20.—Answering a statement by Senator William E. Borah, that he favored repeal of the 18th Amendment, Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills said that "while I have not been an advocate of the 18th Amendment, I have not believed near repeal is the solution."

Mr. Mills said in a statement he was convinced the true remedy for the prohibition question was in a modification of the amendment so as to prevent a return of conditions which existed prior to its passage.

Postmaster-General Brown denied a statement of Mr. Borah that he favored repeal. He said he had voted at the Chicago convention of the Republicans against the repeal proposal of Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, and that he subscribed "wholeheartedly" to the submission plan adopted.

WHEN HOLLAND'S FAMOUS ZUIDER ZEE BECAME INLAND LAKE

Holland's famous Zuider Zee became a thing of the past when this picture was taken showing the closing of the last gap in an eighteen-mile dyke which converted the great body of water into an inland lake. Completion of the dyke makes it possible to reclaim for Queen Wilhelmina's little kingdom 500,000 acres now under water, leaving the lake with only one-fourth of the Zuider Zee's previous expanse. Even the name has been changed, and the Zuider Zee is now IJssel Lake.

BIG MORTGAGES
ARE INVOLVEDCanadian Steel Companies in Receivership Because of Inability to Pay Bonds

Toronto, June 21.—The first receivership action taken against the Algoma Steel Corporation and the Lake Superior Corporation asks for the administration of a mortgage on April 1912, between the Algoma Steel Corporation, as mortgagor, and the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, as mortgagee, and the Lake Superior Corporation, to secure the first and refunding mortgage bonds of the Algoma Steel Corporation with amount of $30,000,000. All necessary and proper accounts to ascertain the liability of the defendants should be taken, the writs set out. Foreclosure or sale of the mortgage is asked.

In the second suit against the Algoma Steel Corporation alone, the Trusts and Guarantee Company asks for a mortgage made out by the defendant as mortgagor and the U.S. Mortgage and Trust Company as mortgagee, to secure the purchase money bonds of the defendant to the amount of $5,800,000. It is also asked that the mortgage be forced by foreclosure or sale.

U.S. PROHIBITION
VOTE PROPOSAL

Washington, June 21.—A Democratic platform favoring submission of a prohibition repeal amendment, but not attempting to pledge party members, is proposed by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic leader in the Senate. Robinson's plan was presented in a formal statement yesterday evening following a conference of his colleagues to discuss the platform problem at which the exchange of views indicated a strong sentiment for that kind of plank.

RIDING CLUB ON

Duncan, June 21.—The monthly ride of the Cowichan Riding Club took the form of a treasure hunt on Sunday. The way led the twenty-six riders through field and river, the treasure being discovered at the Stone Church by Miss Josie Bais and Miss Gloria Havenmeyer. They were afterwards entertained at tea by Mrs. M. J. Walby at her residence on Maple Bay Road. The club plans to hold a "breakfast" ride in July.

ROOSEVELT'S
HOPES STATED

Associated Press
Chicago, June 21.—Convention captives of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York State are counting on ninety of New York State's ninety-four votes to carry him to the edge of the two-thirds necessary for the Democratic nomination for the presidency on the first ballot.

James A. Farley, the Governor's spokesman here, would not say this flatly, but he plainly indicated it as he talked with newspapermen, explaining how he expected a first ballot victory.

"If you take ninety of the New York votes," said Mr. Farley, "and put them in the Roosevelt column you will see we only need fifteen or twenty more." Alfred E. Smith, another of New York's most prominent sons, and William O. McCadeo of California, are due here to-morrow morning to wage the fight against Roosevelt, the leader today in a number of candidates for the hotly-disputed Democratic presidential nomination.

STATE VIEWS
FOR CONFERENCEB.C. and Prairie Premiers Debate Suggestions For Empire Gathering

Canadian Press
Regina, June 21.—The four provincial governments of western Canada, vitally interested in the success of the July Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, have taken the first step to make certain their views on trade and other matters will be before the government when Premier Bennett and his cabinet draw up the Dominion's conference proposals.

Meeting here yesterday, heads of the governments of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, and Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of Manitoba, found themselves in agreement on many points.

They did not draw up the brief that will be presented to Premier Bennett, but took away with them a list of the subjects it will contain for discussion among their colleagues.

WITH UNITED VOICE

In a statement issued following the private gathering, Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan said: "It was the feeling of those in attendance that it was most important all Canada should speak with a united voice in the matter, but should realize the absolute necessity of concessions being asked for from the other parts of the empire, and that it was not sufficient to expect from the conference that a market should be secured for Canadian products unless in return a market were opened for the products of other parts of the empire by Canadian participation in the products of Great Britain."

NO BIG IMMIGRATION

The government heads frowned on the suggestion of Senator A. D. McNeil, Conservative, Vancouver, that Canada should propose an immigration movement from Britain as a suitable return for a preference for timber and copper are of importance, owing to the recent United States tariff impost on those commodities.

A number of representatives of prairie agricultural interests met with the ministers for a time. L. G. Brouillette, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, gave the views of the wheat producers, and F. W. Crawford, secretary of the Canadian Aberdeen-Angus Association, gave the views of the livestock matters.

Heads of the four provincial delegations yesterday evening forwarded a joint telegram to Premier Bennett at Ottawa, urging the federal government to take the advice of representatives of agriculture and other primary industries. The telegram urged Mr. Bennett to invite them to act in an advisory capacity with the committee responsible for preparing information required by the government representative at the conference.

The marketing of Canadian wheat abroad received no little attention, as the chief interest of the prairie in the conference arises out of the possibility of obtaining wider and more assured markets for wheat. No conclusions were arrived at as to the merits of a wheat quota or any other suggested scheme. The feeling of the meeting was that it would be futile to pass an opinion on any proposal without full information.

TOUR PROPOSED

The conference was in full agreement with the proposal of Premier Anderson that a tour of western Canada should be arranged for the British and other delegates to the Imperial meeting if at all possible.

Dublin, June 21.—James McNeill, Governor-General of the Irish Free State, who was not invited to yesterday evening's governmental reception in honor of Cardinal Lorenzo Lauri, papal legate to the Eucharistic Congress here, is attending all the functions organized by the congress itself.

The congress will be formally opened to-morrow. The main event to-day was a garden party at Blackrock College, tendered by the Archbishop of Dublin and the bishops of Ireland to Cardinal Lauri and other visiting dignitaries. The Governor-General was present. To-night the Governor-General will give a dinner at the viceregal lodge to all visiting cardinals and their secretaries.

PRAIRIE CROPS
FORGING AHEAD

Regina, June 21.—Crops have made good growth during the last fortnight, and are generally reported in good condition, according to the report of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

Some of the early sown wheat is now in the shot-blade, and an odd field in the southeastern and eastern portions is now in the head. Seeding of all grains is practically completed, a little flax and a very small acreage to be seeded to oats or barley are all that remain.

Moisture conditions have greatly improved since the heavy rains of about a fortnight ago, and in early all parts of the province there is sufficient moisture for the present.

A SINISTER PROGRAMME

BECAUSE ANTI-SEMITISM IS AN OUTSTANDING feature of Adolf Hitler's Nazi party in Germany serious consequences are feared in the event of this element gaining control after the elections next month. It is even being suggested that it may extend to the United States, since Hitler cells, or groups, are reported to have been organized in the neighboring republic.

This development has caused the Committee on Goodwill Between Jews and Christians of the Federal Churches of the United States to take steps to stamp out what it calls the incipient blaze of racial hatred. In an article in The Congressional and Herald of Gospel Liberty, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, well known to radio listeners in Victoria, who is chairman of that committee, sets forth certain findings of the Foreign Policy Association. They are that Hitler has the notion that "Jews are not Germans, no matter how long they have resided in Germany or in German-Austria. He blames the Jews for everything which he does not like, or of which he does not approve, in the cultural, artistic, social, economic, and political life of the nation, and he sees in everything that he dislikes or disapproves the sinister influence of what he calls the international Jewish plot to conquer the world."

Dr. Cadman declares Hitlerism has the effect of a serious social disease; he regards it as a neurosis in a party mind. Here are some of the measures Hitler would adopt if he had the opportunity:

1. The Jews are to be deprived of their citizenship and receive the status of aliens.
2. No Jew will be permitted to hold a government or municipal post.
3. Since the state must make its primary concern the livelihood of its citizens, should there be insufficient food, the Jews will be expelled.
4. All Jews who entered Germany after 1914 are to be expelled at once (about 100,000).
5. Jews to be prohibited from editing or collaborating on newspapers.
6. The freedom of Christian religions is to be safeguarded, but the Jewish religion is to be combated on the ground that it is materialistic.
7. All Jewish land holdings and town properties are to be confiscated.

The Manchester Guardian asks whether "a whole nation, one of the greatest and most civilized in the world, is to be handed over to the brute, the blackguard, and the charlatan? No one can tell." It adds that Hitlerism in Brunswick is an ominous foreshadowing. And in view of the fact that Nazi bodies are reported to exist in twelve American cities, Dr. Cadman declares in the article to which we have referred that "Hitlerism demands careful attention, lest in these trying days our people rekindle old antipathies and unwholly hatreds." Indeed, he regards the Nazi programme as it relates to the Jews, as something of a challenge to the very basis of world peace.

MORE HOPEFUL SIGNS

IT HAS BECOME A TRADITION IN THE commercial world that a turn upward from a period of low business "always comes six months before anyone is aware of it." This leads The Seattle Times to remark that such a widely-held belief makes of more than ordinary interest some of the reports running, like a bright golden thread, through the business news of the day. Our contemporary across the Sound notes the following:

"Bradstreet's reports that during the week ended June 8, bank clearings of forty-seven leading cities in the United States showed a rise of 33.2 per cent as compared with the previous similar period. The same authority states the index of business failures for the same week fell to the lowest point of the year with the exception of the first week in January.

"Output of light and power energy announced by the National Electric Light Association for the latest week for which figures are available, that ended June 4, shows the production decline, as compared with 1931, the lowest since April. Standard Statistics, reporting on general business conditions, finds the trend "horizontal." May having shown a slight improvement as compared with April.

"The Bankers Monthly, on the strength of a survey of the country's leading manufacturers of agricultural implements, reports "farm prospects are brighter," with "farmers eager to obtain needed equipment." S. W. Straus and Co. reports seven cities on the Pacific Coast enjoying an increase in building activity during May compared with April and also with May of last year.

The improvement in our neighbor's business outlook as indicated in these reports may not make a very great impression on conditions generally. But the point to be remembered is that they are signs of better things ahead. Now, if all the countries of the world would lower their tariff walls, real revival would soon set in.

A SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD WARNING

THE OTTAWA CITIZEN SAYS IT ought to be pointed out before another royal commission on unemployment is appointed—as proposed by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association—that the report of the Ontario Commission on Unemployment, published as long ago as 1916, could be read with profit. Here is an extract from that document:

"The result of their inquiries has impressed on our commissioners most forcibly the fact that the depression, which occurred in 1914 and 1915, was but a phase of the movement alternating between inflation and depression, which is a characteristic feature of modern industry. A false sense of security should not blind the business world, in times of thriving trade, to the fact that widespread unemployment is likely to recur in future."

Our eastern-contemporary wants to know what,

with this plain warning sixteen years ago, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has done in the meantime "to urge Ontario or any other government authority to bring into effect the recommendations of the commission on unemployment."

At last year's session of Parliament at Ottawa, and again this year, Mr. Mackenzie King urged the government to appoint a national commission to advise it upon this most pressing problem. The opposition leader might just as well have saved his breath on both occasions for all the notice the Prime Minister and the government's supporters took of his plan.

THOSE ANNUITIES

JUDGING BY SOME CONTRIBUTIONS to the correspondence columns of the newspaper, there is evidently considerable confusion as to what the land annuities which are the subject of controversy between the government of Great Britain and the government of the Irish Free State really are. Many seem to believe the British authorities are exacting tribute from southern Ireland to the extent of $15,000,000 a year; something as the price of its freedom, or by way of taxes or reparations, or in contribution to war debts.

All this, of course, is far from the truth. When the Irish Free State was set up, with generally glad British consent, thousands of Irish people were tenants on rented land, as they and their forebears had been for years and years. The new state being without funds for the purpose, the British government undertook to float a huge bond issue, using the proceeds to buy freeholds from their landlords for all Free State tenants. It was hailed at the time as a great step toward making its people independent and self-sustaining in this regard.

Some have argued that the British should have made the Irish an outright gift of all this land; but that was not the agreement entered into. The annuities go to the interest and sinking funds of the bond issue used to buy the land. Though underwritten by Britain, the debt is essentially and entirely the Free State's debt. Mr. de Valera has said, however, that these annual payments must cease; but he has announced that he would not object to placing the dispute before an international tribunal—a unique example of nerve.

THE BOY WHO SAID "GARN"

SIR ROBERT GOWER, M.P., CHAIRMAN of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Great Britain, tells the story of a boy who said "garn" to him. It appears that some time ago Sir Robert was walking down Bond Street when a little ragamuffin dashed for a poor, miserable cat that was in immediate danger of being run over and, at the risk of his own life, caught it in time and put it out of harm's way. This is what transpired between Sir Robert and the youngster:

I went to him and said, "I am chairman of the R.S.P.C.A., and would like your name."

"Garn," replied the boy. From his attitude it appeared that he did not believe me, and I said, "I am what I say I am and would like your name and address to recommend you for a medal. Wouldn't you like a medal?"

The little ragamuffin turned and said, "A gentleman told us we had got to be kind to animals and not upset any reward." The lad then turned on his heels and bolted.

What the lad may have lacked in fine speech or respect for the veracity of his elders, he obviously made up in humanitarian instinct.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

C.N.E. CUTTING COSTS
The Regina Leader

The latest report on Canadian National Railways operation and finances is of considerable encouragement. A reduction in operating expenses of more than three and a half million dollars, more than offsetting the decrease in gross revenue for April of this year, is shown in the monthly operating figures for that month. The net revenue of $1,067,970 for April shows an increase of $173,080 over the net revenue for April of last year and also an increase of over half a million dollars over the net revenue for March of this year. Operating expenses were $10,795,067 last month, a saving of $3,543,821 in comparison with the operating expenses of April a year ago.

Economy appears the watchword of the Canadian National, and the emphasis placed upon the need for this by the recent parliamentary committee may act as a further incentive in this direction. The government system has effected a marked reduction in operating expenses in the last two years, it being forced to do so, just as all railways have been, by the tremendous falling-off in traffic and gross earnings consequent upon the world depression. The chief trouble of the Canadian National has been due to loss of business from causes over which it has had no control. What the road simply has to do until the depression is ended is to continue to reduce operating expenses as far as that can safely be carried out. The Canadian National has shown that it is no idle performer given reasonably good times. In 1928 it paid its way both in operating expenses and the interest on all securities held by the public.

A SAFETY RECORD
The Chicago Tribune

Only four passengers lost their lives in railway train accidents in the United States in 1931. This is an unprecedented safety record in the transportation of passengers, the lowest number of such fatalities ever reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission in any one year. For each of the four deaths, the railroads carried 150,093,000 passengers, the highest average ever attained by the railroads of this country. It would seem from this that, if we wished to be completely safe, the point of vantage would be a pullman. Not a bad life, perhaps. Good beds to sleep in, good meals to eat, a constant change of scenery, pleasant companions with sufficient change to prevent boredom. Shower baths, reading rooms, an excellent library, a manicurist and beauty specialist if you're a woman, a barber if you happen to be a male. There are also coming into being cars with private bathrooms to each two sections. All the comforts of home, and many added advantages.

To bring about this high peak of comfort and safety the ingenuity of engineers and service men has been strained to the utmost. There are signaling devices and operating methods that allow for greater speed, constant, however with greater safety. The distance between two points is constantly growing shorter. We have only one further improvement to suggest: That the porter be persuaded to let us sit up until we're sleepy, and allow us to sleep until noon if we like it. This would insure his safety in addition to ours.

A THOUGHT

Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness; none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of their: neither shall there be wailing for them. —Ezekiel vii 11.

For never, never wicked man was wise.—Pope.

Loose Ends

A secret of state is revealed—and offered free to Premier Tolmie—some unemployed
demonstrate a great truth—and Mr. Bennett completes a logical sequence.

By H. B. W.

AUDITORS WHO ARE TRYING TO untangle the affairs of the late Mr. Krueger, the Swedish merchant king, discovered a telephone on his desk which was not connected with any outside operator. Instead, there was a button concealed under the desk and when this was pressed the telephone rang. In this way Mr. Krueger, desiring to get rid of a visitor, could telephone himself by a slight, unseen movement of his hand, and tell the imaginary person at the other end of the wire that he would see him in a minute. The actual visitor, of course, would immediately apologize for taking up so much time and depart. The discovery of Mr. Krueger's dummy telephone has been widely heralded as another remarkable example of this gentleman's ingenuity. It may surprise most British Columbians, therefore, to know that the same arrangement was invented and used in our own Parliament Buildings across the Bay more than twenty years ago, by the late Sir Richard McBride.

SIR RICHARD USED TO HAVE A BUZZER on his desk connected with a certain office in the nearby office. When visitors to the Premier's office overstayed their time—and visitors to premier's offices usually do—Sir Richard, by a slight motion of his knee, could sound the buzzer in the other office. Immediately the official, who was well trained for the job, would telephone the Premier and speak the pass word. The pass word was "Relief." Sir Richard would say, "Yes," and add, "I'll be up in just a moment." The visitors, of course, would withdraw, if they had any sense, and if they hadn't, they would be told that the Premier was sorry, but he was called up to the Cabinet Chamber on matters of importance.

THIS EXCELLENT arrangement, which was absolutely essential to the popular Premier was to get any work done at all, was unwisely dropped by his successors. Perhaps they never thought of it. If this is so, I freely hand the secret over to Premier Tolmie who, according to the public prints, is constantly overwhelmed by visitors to the great distress of his cabinet and secretaries. Let him get a buzzer, too, and buzz some of these people out.

IN SEATTLE, I read in The New Republic, 50,000 people, a tenth of the population, have organized the Unemployed Citizens League, which is carrying on much of the business of life with money. The league conducts a clothing factory, a shoe factory, a coal mine, numerous farms and live stock ranches, garages, barber shops and other businesses. It has taken over apartment houses in the city, putting them into repair in exchange for a lease. All these enterprises have been inaugurated almost without the use of working capital. Farmers, unable to earn a living on their land have turned it over to the league and become members. Trucks have been donated by firms which, owing to the depression, cannot use them, and the coal mine and factories have been obtained on the same terms. As a result, all the members of the league are given the necessities of life in return for work in a little economic system of their own. And there, it seems to me, you have the whole picture of the present world depression complete, and its solution obvious to anybody, even to you and me.

HERE ARE 50,000 people, who have no money, and yet are making a living. They are making a living by exchanging the necessities of life among themselves—clothing, food and fuel. They are able to do this because there are no artificial barriers in the way. Their farms, their factories and their mine don't have to produce a profit. They have no fixed charges, stock, no taxes to support a crushing burden of dead debt, contracted largely for war purposes, no tariffs to meet. Instead of money, real wealth in the form of potatoes, shoes or coal is exchanged for real wealth in the form of milk, trousers or meat. Thus for two days' work a week, each member of the league gets the necessities of life.

PRECISELY THE SAME thing could be done for every person in the world if we had the sense to do it, and by working three or four days a week, with our mechanical equipment, we could provide everyone not only with the necessities but with a living standard higher than we have ever known. But we can't do it while the exchange of real wealth for real wealth, of potatoes for automobiles and wool for shoes is not only discouraged but absolutely forbidden by tariffs, by impossible debt arrangements, by the necessity of paying profits on vast undertakings which have long since ceased to be profitable. We all the water all the artificial overhead wrung out, Seattle unemployed can make a living by trading together. That is precisely what the nations have got to come to, in one form or another, either by amicable, sensible arrangement, or with a lot of unpleasantness.

EVENTS ONLY HAVE meaning when considered in true perspective by side other events. Consider, therefore, this brief chronology of recent events: Germany installs in office the same greasy gentry who took her into the war and to dislodge whom the war was fought. The Disarmament Conference gets nowhere and no one wants to disarm. Japan increases her tariff against everybody. Ireland and Britain fail to agree and will not treat with one another at the Imperial Conference. Canada imposes heavy new duties against American goods. The United States imposes disastrous duties against Canadian products, including lumber. Premier Bennett—and this is the event which completes the logic of the sequence—says to the students of Syracuse University: "Time and distance have been annihilated by science and radical prejudices and fear have been changed into mutual confidence and understanding on the anvil of the World War. Out of this fuller knowledge of one another, from this free and frank interchange of thought, has grown a greater understanding and a finer sympathy, upon whose basis may be reared the enduring structure of a common purpose and a common cause."

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

June 21, 1907

(From The Times Files)

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate to fresh southerly and westerly winds, generally fair and a little warmer.

Active preparations have been commenced for the reception of H.H. Prince Fushimi. To-day the waterfront of James Bay is being decorated with bunting, and to-morrow the C.P.R. wharf will be similarly adorned. The Parliament Buildings will not be illuminated.

Disaffection is expressed in several quarters over the proposed sale of the land owned by the city north of the Driving Park, and the portion of the future of the Pacific Hotel, on the ground that the civic authorities will not be able to realize a sum sufficient to compensate the city for the loss of such valuable property.

Owing to the number of Orientals now crossing the Pacific, the C.P.R. has decided to provide extra accommodation for these passengers on the Empress liners.

The building activity in the city, especially in the residential way, still continues, and a number of beautiful homes are in the course of construction at different points throughout the city.

If yesterday's attendance at the Driving Park is any criterion of the interest which is taken in horse-racing, the future of the Victoria Driving Club is assured. The first day of the opening was graced by a brilliant attendance, and the sport provided was good. The newly-laid track proved that it provides excellent facilities.

THE BEER PLEBISCITE

To the Editor:—Three more days now, and the beer plebiscite in Esquimalt will be decided. As Mr. John Dean said in your paper a few days ago, Esquimalt is a remarkable community.

It has 3,172 population; 2,449 are voters. Add the school roll and there are only fifty-seven unaccounted for. The plebiscite, which looks to all non-Britishers, and those not registered as voters.

Out of these 2,449, 555 belong to the living. The balance, which looks to be a pretty clear indication of what is figuring on getting most of the naval votes, seeing who is in power. Personally I think that expectation is an insult to the services and is tantamount to saying that they have so little sense of British fair play that they are going to step in and over-ride the wishes of the householders.

As one of them, I am going to mind my own business and keep away from the polls, letting the citizens decide their own fate.

JACK TAB.

Esquimalt, B.C., June 20, 1932.

THE ASIATIC PROBLEM

To the Editor:—Usually when the excitement of an election is at its height, the Asiatic problem in B.C. is trotted out for effect, but unfortunately, it does much harm to international goodwill and friendly trade relations.

Now, with the great opportunity of an Imperial Conference approaching, when Australia, New Zealand, and other British Dominions will be there to discuss a permanent solution looking to the future, there seems to be no plans being made to have this vital question put on the agenda of the conference.

This pretended fear of wrecking all trade prospects with Asia, by a firm definition of preference for our own British people as future citizens of Canada, is simply the excuses of disloyal selfish interests who hate to give up small profitable advantages for the sake of posterity.

A glance into the future with all the probable developments, of race hatred, trade wars, bitter discord and international complications, which are sure to result from our present lack of policy, should stir the hearts of all Canadian children to action.

The Imperial Conference at Ottawa presents an opportunity to have this question discussed from a broad outlook, with calm unselfish deliberation, yet with all the weight of the empire behind all decisions.

Both Chinese and Japanese people have many likeable traits, and are our superiors in many respects, but to allow some of them to come here to compete unfairly with our trade people is laying the foundation for future trouble.

DIRECTS SCHOOL PHYSICAL TRAINING

MAJOR A. C. HINTON, supervisor of physical training for Victoria schools, who was mainly responsible for the success of the "open day" staged by the students at the Royal Athletic Park this month. Major Hinton was congratulated by the school board upon the achievement of such a fine display. The thousands of parents who witnessed the display were greatly pleased with what is being done in the way of physical training for school children in Victoria.

The class who come here are so very insignificant compared with millions in Asia, that their rulers and leaders should readily concede the much greater value of harmony and goodwill.

It would be much better to have no Asiatic bery at all, than to have those here despised, hated, ostracized and resented, causing bitter national feeling on both sides of the Pacific Ocean.

As friendly neighbors, whose friendship we wish to retain, we can remain better friends and have more profitable trade relations, if by mutual agreement, they will keep to their own side of the fence, and confine their visits and stay among us to non-competitive activities, against our children.

From their own standpoint of good manners, they are abusing the privilege of our hospitality and acting contrary to their own rules of trade guilds and practice in trade and commerce relations.

If standard of living was reversed and some of our workers went over to China to compete with them, they would not even be allowed to land in the country, so well do they organize themselves for trade and labor action.

As one who has many friends among these people in Asia, and in the interests of building up goodwill on both sides of the Pacific on a solid lasting basis, I would urge that nothing short of complete elimination of Asiatic competition with our people in Canada will remedy the Asiatic problem in B.C., but the way it should be done is most important.

The Imperial Conference in Ottawa will bring together representatives from all parts of British Dominions, where the problem of Asiatic penetration has been dealt with in various ways, and the opportunity should be seized to have a thorough discussion of this subject, free from race prejudice and political favor.

JAMES MOYER.

115 Regina Avenue, Victoria, June 20, 1932.

MEASLES CASES NOT SERIOUS

The measles epidemic, which started in the northwest area of the city has now spread to all school districts, it was noted in the monthly report for May of Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, presented to the City Council yesterday evening. The cases are not serious, however, and co-operation between parents and officials to check the disease has been splendid. In May ninety-six cases were reported.

The doctor, in his report, expresses regret at the closing of the Sooke Lake Relief Camp, which, he says, was a means of exercising a beneficial physical, mental and moral influence over the single men who are unemployed.

HITLER'S DEMAND STIRS GERMANY

Associated Press
Berlin, June 21.—A flat demand for complete freedom for his uniformed National Socialists' troops throughout the whole of Germany was made today by Adolf Hitler, Nazi leader, on Baron Wilhelm von Gayl, Minister of the Interior.

Hitler, who appeared before Baron von Gayl, accompanied by three of his chief lieutenants, was infuriated over the action of Bavarian police at Munich Sunday in preventing a uniformed parade of his Nazi followers.

As a result of the demand, the baron as minister charged with safeguarding the constitution of the Reich, has been placed in a difficult position. He has summoned the ministers of interior of all German states here for a conference to-morrow.

Irvin Cobb Pays Canada Tribute

Canadian Press
Montreal, June 21.—Irvin S. Cobb, humorist and writer, stopped here yesterday long enough to expound a theory and leave for Jasper Park and his annual fishing trip.

Mr. Cobb was in holiday mood and said a great deal in a few minutes. His theory followed:
"In the old days we good American citizens thought that sooner or later Canada would get fed up with the British Government and would be quite willing to be annexed. Now it seems like a pretty good idea to reverse the thing. Maybe a lot of our problems would be solved if Canada annexed the United States—if we had your Canadian laws and methods of enforcement."

HIS BOSS KNEW BEST!

Made Him Try Kruschen

IN TWO WEEKS—
"A DIFFERENT MAN"

When a man is sick his work must suffer. And to that extent, his ill-health affects his employer. But if every employer prescribed the medicine his employees should take, the result would probably not be for the general good!

So it was fortunate for this man that his employer prescribed Kruschen. For nothing could deal more effectively, or more safely, with constipation and its resultant evils, than the world-famous salts. Of course, they put this man right in very quick time. He says:—"Until six months ago I suffered from constipation, fearful headaches, and abdominal pains. I tried almost everything I could think of to obtain relief, but there was nothing doing. Then my employer suggested Kruschen Salts. He not only suggested, but insisted. I gave in, bought a bottle and gave them a trial. At the end of a fortnight was a different man. To-day I am as healthy a man as any in the town, and never cease to advise others to commence the 'little daily dose.' Use this as you will, but should you advertise it, kindly do so under the initials 'W. B.'"

Half the ills which afflict humanity can be traced to one root cause. That cause is internal sluggishness; failure to keep the inside free from poisonous matter. Auto-toxemia, or self-poisoning, is the inevitable penalty. And so follow a whole host of troubles—headache for one; rheumatism for another; slowness, sleeplessness, at depression.

Kruschen Salts is Nature's recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate your liver and kidneys to smooth, regular action. Your inside is thus kept clear of those impurities which, allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system. Kruschen works directly upon your blood-stream too, invigorating it so that it flows every fibre of you with tingling energy. Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

CHARGES FOLLOW DEATH

Los Angeles, June 21.—Harold L. Menjou, twenty-year-old adopted son of Adolphe Menjou, screen star, to-day faced charges of murder and driving a motor car while intoxicated as an outcome of an automobile accident Sunday in which young Menjou's companion, a girl of sixteen, was killed. The charges were filed yesterday.

The Saskatchewan Drought Commission has recently planted fifty-five miles of caragana hedges in the vicinity of Regina as a demonstration of the value of such hedges in preventing soil drifting and increasing moisture conservation.

If a few drops of olive oil be added to water when washing chamol leather gloves they will not become hard or stiff.

Langford

A meeting of the District Egg Pool No. 7, will be held on Wednesday at Royal Oak, at which all local members of the Belmont Egg Pool are expected to be present.

Members of the Langford Tennis Club visited the Cedar Hill courts on Saturday, winning the ladies' doubles, losing the men's doubles and halving the mixed doubles.

A jolly time was spent by members of the Langford younger set on Saturday evening at Swastika through the kindness of Miss L. M. A. Savory. Cards, games and contests were enjoyed. Miss Margaret Smedley won the nature study competition. A collection was taken in aid of the funds of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The first Langford Scout Troop held their first camp fire at Marshwood Saturday evening. Capt. E. F. Wagner welcomed the visitors, after which Major J. Wise, divisional commissioner, explained details of camp life. The camp will be held from August 8 to 20 at Burgoyne Bay, Salt Spring Island.

Neil Clarke, who had the misfortune to break his leg on Empire Day, is progressing satisfactorily in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. H. G. Baynes is a patient in the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Balagoo and small son are spending a few days at Langford Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thom and son, David, from Portland, who are spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Thom at Colquhoun, spent Friday at Langford.

POLE PLAN IS BEFORE CITY

Suggestion of the Real Estate Board for a conference between officials of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the B.C. Telephone Company and the city to discuss elimination of the duplication of light and telephone poles on streets, especially in better class areas, was referred by the City Council yesterday evening to the city engineer and city solicitor for report.

The realtors pointed out that replacement of poles in the Rockland Avenue district lately had indicated a policy of perpetuating the plan of having poles on both sides of the streets which was detrimental to property values. A conference between the parties interested might result in an agreement for elimination of poles where possible, it was suggested.

NEW GAME FOR MT. DOUGLAS

Outdoor Shuffleboard Layouts For Playground Are Proposed

Installation of three outdoor shuffleboard layouts at Mount Douglas Park by the Victoria-Saanich Parks and Beaches Committee will be proposed at the next meeting of the group, following the return of local delegates from the convention of the International Association of Park Commissioners at Tacoma.

Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the city parks committee and one of the Victoria representatives on the Victoria-Saanich group, announced he would seek to have the playing material furnished at Mount Douglas. In Tacoma parks, he said, shuffleboard is a very popular pastime.

The city already has two outdoor checker boards in its parks and the shuffleboard game will be another link in making the local parks more attractive. Installation costs will be low, Mr. Worthington said.

TO PRESS CASE OF LOCAL MEN

Victoria Workmen Should Get Chance at Pier Island, Aldermen Feel

Every effort will be made by the Victoria City Council to secure for workmen of this city an equal chance to get jobs on construction of the home for the convicted Doukhobor nudists at Pier Island.

This policy was initiated by the council yesterday evening when Alderman P. R. Brown was instructed to discuss the matter with D. B. Plunkett, M.P., and the governmental departments handling the work, following a complaint made by the Trades and Labor Council that Oak Bay and Saanich residents would get preference owing to the policy of getting the help from the riding in which the work was done.

Alderman Alex. Peden raised a point in regard to the method of employing the labor for the project. If it were done as a relief undertaking the employment should be arranged through the regular relief channels and not through a Conservative Party official, he said. Moreover, he declared, if the Dominion Government had work to do in Victoria he thought Oak Bay and Saanich workmen would be given a fair chance of getting jobs. If not, the policy was wrong.

A distinction between the Pier Island project and an ordinary public work of local benefit was drawn by Alderman W. T. Straith. The Pier Island job was in the nature of constructing a penal institution for the Dominion and in view of the fact that the city had a large body of unemployed white men, he had very few doubts as to the propriety of employing a comparatively small number, those in the city should have an equal chance at jobs, he said.

Although Mayor Leeming had secured a definite statement of policy from Dominion Government officials on the question, it was decided to pursue the matter to the utmost and, in the absence of the mayor from the city next week, Alderman Brown was authorized to conduct the negotiations.

KLONDIKE RUSH IS DESCRIBED

Rev. Canon Comyn-Ching, Edmonton, Reviews Trail of '98 in Address Here

The history of the Klondike gold rush was graphically told and illustrated by exceptionally fine slides by Rev. Canon Comyn-Ching, of Edmonton, in the Memorial Hall yesterday evening.

Although there were many stories of the finding of gold in the district, he believed the true version to be that of the discovery of the precious metal in the bed of Bonanza Creek by the half-caste wife of George Carmack. The story, told in some detail by the speaker, was to the effect the wife had seen the gold while clearing the creek for water. When Carmack had panned the gravel, the story of the discovery eventually reached the outside world and led to the great rush.

High tribute was paid to the allegiance to duty of the Mounted Police, who administered the law in that country when the lawless elements of the world poured in searching for gold. They had kept the Yukon in good order when the task was one of the most difficult, he said.

By means of pictures he illustrated the trail of '98, indicating the difficulties facing the men who went into the northland.

He also touched upon the present White Pass Railway, commending it highly for its scenic beauty.

Various methods of securing gold, from the old roset and pan to modern hydraulic and dredging systems were reviewed by the speaker.

Throughout his address he maintained the interest of his hearers with numerous anecdotes and humorous comments.

On behalf of the gathering, Archdeacon E. P. Laycock moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

GAS FAVORED IN ESQUIMALT

Suggestion of Victoria Gas Company Receives Considerable Support in District

The Esquimalt Council at its meeting yesterday evening tabled a proposal from the Victoria Gas Company suggesting the installation of mains in that municipality, Oak Bay and Saanich, which would furnish gas to the consumers at city rates. Before the matter is gone into in detail, Reeve Heald will confer with the municipal heads of Oak Bay and Saanich, since all three must accept the project before the gas company will carry it through. According to the proposal, $20,000 would be spent in the municipality by the company in two years for installation work. The suggestion made by the company had been approved by the municipal council, who had stated a by-law authorizing the laying of necessary mains would have to be drawn up, the revee said.

The representatives of the three municipalities will meet in the near future to consider the scheme and a report will be given to Esquimalt by its head.

As much Esquimalt unskilled labor as possible would be used in the work if the project were carried through, the company informed Mr. Heald. The proposal was met with considerable favor by the council. The company further stated it would not stand in the way of other gas concerns which might wish to invade the municipality in the future.

WILL FIX GUN BATTLE ONUS

Police Commission to Decide If City to Pay Drug Store Damage

When a policeman shoots at a bandit and the bandit pumps lead back at him and in the general scattering of bullets windows and showcases are shattered and broken, who is responsible for the damage?

This is the question facing the City Council as a result of the claim made by A. H. Peacey, Poul Bay druggist, following the shooting of a gun battle in the store on June 1.

"If the bandits had held me up and taken my money I would have lost $5. As it was between $50 and $60 in damage was done," says Mr. Peacey in his letter to the council, asking a settlement.

Legally, according to City Solicitor H. S. Pringle, the city is not obliged to pay for the damage.

Morally, however, the city may be under obligation to Mr. Peacey, since if the police officers had not been stationed in the store the gun battle would not have taken place, Mayor Leeming pointed out.

Reports on the occurrence have been submitted by the constables involved and the council left the final decision in the matter to the police commissioners who meet this afternoon.

be held in Sooke. Arrangements were made for the district council to hold a meeting in the Sooke Hall on Thursday evening, June 23, at 8 p.m. All members of the local branch of the Legion are asked to attend.

The annual school picnic will be held in Charter's Field on Friday, June 24.

Mrs. R. B. Mugford entertained at a children's party last week, the occasion being her daughter Patsy's birthday. Those invited were: Mrs. A. Eve, Victoria; Mrs. R. J. Mugford, Mrs. A. Urwin, Joyce and Baby Urwin, Victoria; Mrs. G. H. Jones, Stanley and Leonard, Mrs. W. Shields and Warren, Mrs. H. Page and Douglas, Mrs. A. L. Wilson and Laurie, Mrs. S. L. ## SEEK BEER FEE IN ESQUIMALT

Municipality Asks Right to Collect Licenses Now Going to Government

An effort will be made to have license fees for beer parlors transferred from the provincial government to the municipalities in which the parlors are situated as a result of a resolution drafted by the Esquimalt Council at its meeting yesterday evening. The resolution, introduced by Councillor Robert A. Anderson, will be forwarded to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at its next session.

If the resolution is carried and accepted by the government, it would give those municipalities in which parlors are located a larger share of the profits accruing from the sale of beer than those not having licensed premises within their bounds.

In Esquimalt, it was pointed out, the difference would be about $3,000 a year, since $1,000 would be forthcoming from each of the three parlors in the municipality. With this extra revenue the tax on improvement in the district could be lowered 7 or 8 per cent.

Esquimalt secured approximately $6,700 a year from liquor profits, less than Oak Bay or Saanich, in which there were no parlors or even a liquor store.

Reeve Heald suggested the matter be tabled until after the referendum regarding the abolition of parlors in the district.

His suggestion was voted down, since the councilors felt that even if Esquimalt was not effected after the pleb-

London, June 21.—Princess Violet of Montenegro, who is the daughter of a former Scottish Yard detective, is coming back to South London to live. A sister here is the wife of a garage proprietor.

Princess Violet was born in London and went on the stage as a dancer at the age of fifteen. She met the prince near San Remo in 1916. They were married in Paris in 1924, and spent most of their time in France. Montenegro was absorbed into Yugoslavia after the war. It is because of this important gathering that she will be unable to attend the forthcoming Canadian convention in Victoria.
Miss Lena Maden, president of the International Federation, will sail from New York for Paris on July 6, at the head of a goodwill delegation to attend the meeting. Annual reports of the officers and standing committees and the shaping of a programme of action for 1932-33 will constitute the principal business of the meeting.
Among the outstanding associate members of the International Federation is Senora Elisa Bachofen of Buenos Aires, Argentina, first woman in South America to be granted a diploma as civil engineer. Senora Bachofen is a graduate of the National University of Buenos Aires and is now engineer to the directorate general of roads and bridges of the Argentine Republic.
Her activities are varied. Among the offices she holds are secretary general of the Argentine Society of Inventors, corresponding secretary of the Argentine Society of Geographical Studies and foreign secretary of the Press and Propaganda committee of the National Council of Women of the Argentine Republic. ## JOINT RECITAL HELD AT Y.W.C.A.

On Saturday evening an interested audience of parents and friends gathered in the drawing-room of the Y.W.C.A. to enjoy a recital by the pianoforte pupils of Miss Marie Rust and Mrs. W. J. Simpkins. The programme included piano solos and duets. A very pleasing item during the evening was a mandolin and piano number played by Raymond and Reginald Porter.
The performers taking part were: Grace Shubbrook, Margaret Garrett, Joy Dempsey, Catherine Weeks, Edith Neilson, Hilda Ham, Gordon Ramsdale, Muriel Malcolm, these being pupils of Miss Rust; Roger Bell, Ruth Stanfield, Ida Stinson, Edwin Comber and Marie Rust, pupils of Mrs. Simpkins.
Edwin Comber, who displayed great command of the piano in his performance of Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C Minor and "Pete Champetre" (Sydney Smith), was greeted by a very enthusiastic audience. Miss Rust's rendering of Carl Bohm's "By a Mountain Spring" and Percy Grainger's "Country Gardens" was exceptionally pleasing. Both these students received hearty encores.
The evening was brought to a close by the National Anthem.

NEW PRESIDENT OF BEAUX ARTS

Ted Simmons Chosen Head; Other Officers Elected; Picnic Saturday

Ted Simmons was elected president of the Beaux Arts Society at the first meeting of the new executive committee held yesterday evening at the Poppy-El tea rooms, other officers chosen being: Vice-president, Bill Boorman; secretary, Brian Burdon-Murphy; treasurer, Gordon Bell.
Tribute was paid to the able leadership of Miss Marguerite Van Voogh, retiring president, and in recognition of her devoted services during her tenure of office the executive unanimously passed a resolution recommending the inclusion of a clause in the constitution to the effect that past presidents automatically become members of the executive for the year following their term of office.
The whole question of the constitution will be taken up by a committee whose members include Ted Simmons, W. Boorman and Miss Jean Findlay. This committee will draft a tentative constitution for submission to the executive, with a view to its later submission to a general meeting of the society for consideration.
Mr. and Mrs. F. Grey Aldous, honorary patrons of the society, were guests at the meeting, and final arrangements were discussed in connection with the picnic which Mrs. Aldous has invited the society to hold at her home at Ten-Mile Point on Saturday afternoon. Tennis, bathing and an alfresco supper cooked on the beach will be among the many attractions.

Among the passengers arriving in Victoria this afternoon on the Empress of Japan from the Orient were Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, first secretary of the Canadian Legation in Tokyo, and Mrs. Keenleyside, who has just completed a year's tenure of office as president of the Tokio Women's Club, the most important institution of its kind in Japan. They will spend the summer in Canada and return to Tokio in about four months' time.
The club year just ended of the Tokio Women's Club has been one of the most eventful and successful in its history—it was founded, as the Tokio Ladies' Debating Society, in 1908—and it is unanimously agreed by the nearly 300 women who comprise its membership that this success is very largely due to the ability and tactful leadership of Mrs. Keenleyside and the friendship and respect accorded her by all the members enabling her to have the wholehearted co-operation of the officers and chairwomen of the many committees in the management of the club's varied activities.
The prominent position that has thus naturally become Mrs. Keenleyside's in the society of Japan's capital is a tribute to this Canadian woman even greater, perhaps, than that which marked her unanimous election to the presidency of the club a year ago.
The Tokio Women's Club is divided into departments for art, civics, drama, literature and music, each having its own chairwoman, and the committees include library, extension, house, nominating, press and social, each also having its own chairwoman.

WOMEN WORKING BECAUSE MUST

Labor Speaker Asks If All Men Holding Jobs Need Them

Canadian Press
Montreal, June 21.—How many men of independent means are earning salaries while others not so fortunately situated are unemployed? An investigation along this line might disclose some interesting information. This was the reaction of Miss Ida Saint Jean, well-known champion of the rights of woman, to the report of a speech made by J. A. Francoeur, M.L.A. for Dorion, at a meeting of the Montreal Labor Club. Mr. Francoeur was reported as having said in regard to the unemployment problem that "something must be done to curb the widespread tendency to employ women in industrial plants to the detriment of unemployed men."

"Is the question ever raised by the critics of the woman worker as to how many men need the large salaries they have received? What about the bachelors? Does anyone question their positions when married men with families to support are unemployed? If women work, it is because their menfolk cannot support them. Even married women in innumerable cases are obliged to earn money to keep their families," she said.
"It is not the woman who works for a small wage who has brought about the economic disequilibrium of the world. This has happened because governments are run by people who do not understand economic principles and who would make a sorry failure in business. How many of them really earn their indemnities?"

NURSES REVIEW WEIR REPORT

Miss F. H. Emory Touches Survey in Presidential Address in St. John

Canadian Press
St. John, N.B., June 21.—Attainment of the national objectives of the Canadian Nurses' Association is being accomplished by co-operation of provincial organizations from coast to coast, Miss Florence H. M. Emory, assistant director, department of health nursing, University of Toronto, said to-day in her presidential address to the biennial convention of the association.
An increase in the membership was placed in the forefront of the association's objectives by the president, along with implementing of the survey of nursing education in Canada conducted by Dr. G. M. Weir, Vancouver, B.C.
This survey which will be discussed at length at the convention and which, Miss Emory said, "will provide content for convention programmes for years to come," is "scientific in approach and method." "Some of its findings are deep," said the president. "They strike to the core of nursing difficulties. In its pages the student nurse is portrayed. Her intelligence, her health care are examined. The nursing school is brought to the footlights with the conclusion that financial support from the state is necessary if schools of nursing are to take their place with schools giving preparation to a sister profession."

"Perhaps the most intriguing and stimulating chapters of the report are those devoted to a discussion of the control of the graduate nurse," said Miss Emory. "The socialization of nursing services with the formation of district registries of provincial and federal nursing councils, appears to offer a penetrating and effective, if somewhat remote, solution of nursing problems."

The report of Dr. Weir has not only provided the profession with a second body of subjective and objective data. It had brought together in national and provincial joint study committees those who have power to improve the situation, the president explained.

"This report is not the final publication on nursing affairs in Canada. The profession should expect a second report, indicating accomplishment, revealing new truth," said Miss Emory.

Miss Florence H. M. Emory, Toronto, was re-elected by acclamation as president at the opening session to-day. An acknowledgment was also given Miss Nora Moore, honorary secretary, of Toronto. Other officers will be elected Saturday.

GUIDES' CAMP SITE SECURED

Local Association Chooses Gordon Head Spot For Victoria West District Girls

Arrangements for summer camps for Girl Guides were made at a special meeting of the local association held yesterday evening at headquarters. Miss Hilda Leighton, camp adviser, and Mrs. H. M. Archibald, district commissioner, reported that a very satisfactory camp site had been secured at Gordon Head with a good beach where swimming could be safely indulged in and with nearby farm houses where supplies could be obtained.

This site will be used by the Victoria West district. The first contingent will go out on July 1, when the Rangers will go into camp in charge of Miss Aline Stewart Williams. On July 10 the guides' camp will be opened for their district.

East Victoria district will camp at Bradley Dyne from July 5 to 15; in charge of Miss Eleanor Baker, Brown Owl, Vancouver, and Miss Ames, Mrs. L. A. Genge, commissioner for that district, announced that help was needed to provide transportation, and asked that anyone willing to assist with cars would communicate with her at E 2025. The start will be made at 8:30 a.m. on July 5, from the Y.W.C.A. Visitors' day will be on July 10, when parents and friends will be welcomed.

South Saanich guides, under Miss Gale, will also use the Bradley-Dyne camp. The report of the garden party held recently at "Rosedene," the residence of Mrs. W. C. Nichol, showed that the affairs had netted approximately $375, which sum will be used towards camping expenses, rent of headquarters and other necessary items.

A vote of appreciation of the kindness of Mrs. Nichol in making this success possible by the loan of her beautiful gardens, was passed. The secretary was requested to send letters of thanks to Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. Nichol, Mrs. Crowe Baker, Mrs. B. W. Pearce, Lady Lake and others for cash donations; to Mr. Kent for loaning and installing an electric gramophone; to the Navy League of Canada for supplying a bugler; the Conservative Club for loan of chairs and tables, and to the Boy Scout Association for the valuable assistance of the scouts. Mrs. Stewart Williams and her committee were warmly congratulated on the excellent tea arrangements, and appreciation voiced of the generous response of members and friends in providing cakes.

Miss Stewart Williams reported on the opening of the guide hut at the stadium, at which she had been present.

The annual swimming gala would take place on October 8, the meeting decided.

There will be no meeting in July, the next to be on September 19, at 5:15 p.m. at headquarters.

SISTER
KITCHEN

DON'T SAY CAN'T—SAY CAN!

By SISTER MARY

A bride's first experience in canning is one of her thrilling housekeeping adventures. Although modern methods have come to the rescue regarding measurements and time for cooking, the first hours spent in a spic and span kitchen "putting up" fruits and jellies are not without their moments of anxiety.

Successful canning depends on the principle of sterilization. Food which has been made sterile must be kept so and the efficiency of these processes is the answer to the canning problem.

In addition to the necessity of a temperature which will kill germs and complete sealing to keep out germs, several other factors must be considered in the work of canning.

Canning does not in any way improve the quality of the product. Fruit and vegetables which were old and tasteless before canning will be just that way after canning.

Produce which is bruised or speckled has begun to be attacked by bacteria which is not destroyed in the sterilization of canning. Consequently, only sound, fresh materials should be canned.

Certain fruits and vegetables are easily canned on account of their high acid content. High temperatures increase the purifying action of the acid of strawberries, currants, pineapples and tomatoes and makes it possible to sterilize them quickly. In extremely acid fruits, the acid plus exclusion of air is sufficient preservative without sterilization.

ACID MAY BE ADDED
Vegetables which contain no acid are difficult to can in the home kitchen unless a steam pressure cooker is used. The sterilization or processing period must be carried on for several hours. However, it has been found that the addition of a little acid will overcome this difficulty without affecting the flavors of the canned product. From one to two teaspoons lemon juice added to each pint of asparagus, string beans, peas, greens and corn reduces the time of processing and insures against spoilage. Corn requires two teaspoons lemon juice. This gives a slightly acid flavor when the jar is opened for serving, but one-eighth teaspoon soda added with the seasoning when the vegetable is seasoned neutralizes the acid most satisfactorily.

A short pre-cooking period before packing in cans is a decided advantage. In this way the center of the filled jar reaches the processing temperature from thirty to forty minutes sooner than when vegetables are packed cold.

Fruits and vegetables "canned" in glass should be stored in a dark place. Light will cause the foods to lose their color, which of course detracts from their appearance when served. The temperature at which canned vegetables are stored is also important since it has a pronounced effect on the keeping qualities. Store them in as cool a place as possible, preferably between 45 and 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

HOW TO STERILIZE JARS
Sterilize all jars, rubbers and tops before packing with any product. To sterilize place jars and tops in a dishpan or large kettle. Cover with cold

JEAN HARLOW
TO BE BRIDE

Associated Press

Los Angeles, June 21.—Jean Harlow, the screen's "platinum blonde," and Paul Bern, film producer, will be married Friday or Saturday, the actress said today. The first indication the film colony had of the approaching wedding was yesterday afternoon when the couple appeared at the marriage license bureau to obtain a license. "We were surprised ourselves," said Miss Harlow. "Mr. Bern did not make the proposal until Sunday and I accepted. We had casually spoken of marriage before, but not until Sunday was the subject seriously gone into, when we decided to get a license."

The wedding will be informal, with only a few relatives and friends as witnesses, Miss Harlow said. It will be the first marriage for Bern, who gave his age as forty-two. Miss Harlow, whose real name is Harlean Carpenter McGrew, gave her age as twenty-one. It will be her second marriage. The first husband was Charles P. McGrew, 2nd of Chicago.

Salvation Army Reports Large Increase in Women Seeking Shelter in East

New York, June 21.—Salvation Army officials report a large increase in the number of women seeking shelter in emergency lodging houses.

Major Florence Dean, superintendent of the Army's emergency lodging house for women in West Twenty-second Street, reported an increase of 50 per cent in applicants in the last few months.

"This increase is serious enough in itself, but it becomes a major tragedy when it is realized that the greater part of this increase represents married women and women with children," she said.

"Another sad phase of the increased demand for aid is the fact that the type of women forced to apply for shelter has changed so greatly. When we originally opened this lodge two years ago the majority of women seeking help were of the 'flaming class'—women who were trained to do nothing but factory work or to serve as domestics.

WOMEN OF HIGHEST TYPE SEEK AID

"This has all changed. Now we have women of the highest type, women who formerly had large incomes, school teachers, college graduates, highly trained office workers and girls who have been brought up in an atmosphere of luxury but now are forced to seek food, shelter and clothing from charity organizations.

"It is a terrible thing to contemplate what might happen to these girls and women if they could not secure shelter from the Army. And yet, we are told that funds for emergency relief are exhausted and that we must prepare to curtail activities. If we can't get the money to continue I suppose we will have to start turning these women out into the streets. Already we are not able to take in all of the women who come to us for help. We are turning out those we already are helping.

Major Dean said there was little indication of improvement in employment conditions for women and was pessimistic regarding the outlook for the immediate future. Where openings were found for women the salaries were small, she said, adding:

"Many of the women are losing hope. When they do get jobs they frequently are forced to put up with difficult working conditions."

Culbertson and Work Patch Up Differences

New York, June 21.—Peace came to at least two warring factions of contract bridge to-day with the issuance of a joint statement by Ely Culbertson and Milton C. Work, president of Bridge Headquarters Inc., announcing organization of the United States Bridge Association.

The new organization brings to an end a way of words between Culbertson and the sponsors of the "official" system of bidding.

Although the joint statement to-day said the new association will embrace all factions in the field of bridge, there was no word of confirmation from the "four horsemen" who recently issued a challenge to all comers. The association will organize and conduct local, state, sectional and national tournaments. The statement also announced an agreement had been reached whereby bidding systems of contract bridge have been standardized as closely as is desirable.

"The Culbertson system remains unchanged," the statement said. "The official system acknowledges most of the principles of the Culbertson system except for slight variations in the third of hand valuation. The official system retains the artificial two-club demand bid and the intermediate two-bid with the Culbertson forcing two-club as an optional factor."

Milton C. Work, proponent of the official system, will be president of the new association.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

DOES YOUR CHILD STEAL?
All mistakes should be turned to good account. In childhood they acquire the child of what he can and cannot do. His mistakes need correction, not punishment, and then should be forgotten. It is to be expected that having made them and noted the consequence, he will not make them again.

Probably no one mistake made by the child so fills the mother with apprehension as stealing. She has a feeling that the child should know without being told that stealing is a terrible thing. If he does make this mistake, she is ready to punish him brutally in absolute terror that he may repeat the mistake.

EXAGGERATED
All of this is exaggerated concern. Children learn gradually, not all at once, the exactions of virtues. The young child has a liberal education in taking. He picks up things all about his own home and he has no feeling about picking things up elsewhere. He is handed cookies and candy and flowers and pennies and toys. It is only when he makes his own choice of what he wants that his action is considered a crime. Yet he has just made a mistake. He needs a more effective education in the meaning of the term, possession.

First of all, he needs things of his own. Everyone in the household should be scrupulously respectful of these possessions, no matter how trivial their value. No one should touch baby's toys or collections of buttons or stones, or scraps of cloth without baby's permission.

SHOPS AND STORES
When he goes into shop with his mother, he should understand that everything there belongs to the owner. He can have what he sees only by paying for it. It is wise to let the child hand over the money that pays for an article, and thus sense the inevitableness of this transaction. He should never be allowed to accept anything of even the smallest value unless given him by the owners. In this way he comes to understand what possessions are not his and what must be asked for, bought, or left alone.

If the child brings home a toy which obviously is not his, do not encourage him by asking if it belongs to him. If he wants it badly enough, the chances are he will say it is, thus adding an untruth to his initial mistake. Instead, let the mother discover whether it has been given the child. If not, take him by the hand and pleasantly but with determination let the child carry back the toy and apologize for having taken it. Usually only this is necessary to prevent a repetition of such a mistake.

HUNT CAUSES
Then let the parent try to discover if there were reasons why the child had to steal. Has he possessions of his own? Does he feel so inferior to other children that he must by hook or crook possess himself of something to raise himself to an equality with them? Has he a daily example of honesty?

Students of crime find that over and over young offenders have been driven to steal because of one or the other of these causes. How futile, how illogical, to expect to nip such an impulse in the bud by spanking or humiliating the child when the cause that inspired the act goes undetected and unchanged.

To Give Play For
St. Paul's Funds

"Sally Takes a Hand," a play in four acts, written and produced by R. A. Walker of Victoria, will be presented at the Rex Theatre on Friday evening in aid of St. Paul's Garrison Church. The play was written in March and produced on March 28 in "Fair the Liverpool Seamen's Institute, England. Those taking part in Friday's performance will be Lady Emily Walker, the maid; Miss H. Parkinson, an actress; Mrs. R. Abercrombie, the maid; Eric H. J. Walker, Uncle James; Percy Wickham, the young man about town; Harvey MacGe, policeman, and R. A. Walker, a young artist.

Two special guest artists will be Miss Evelyn Valiant, A.T.C.L., L.A.B., and Donald Woods, violinist. An orchestra will play between acts.

"Reducing" Wife Given Divorce

Chicago, June 21.—Mrs. Jeanette Davidson was granted a divorce on grounds of cruelty from Julius Davidson of Toronto, who, she said, beat her every time she missed a gymnasium class.

Mrs. Davidson had reduced her weight from 250 to 150 pounds and said husband said he had spent $100, or $4 a pound, in gym classes to bring it about. The plaintiff, however, declared she had no desire to reduce.

GREGORIAN CHANTS

In view of the talk on Gregorian chants to be given by Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie, honorary regent of Victoria Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E., at her residence "Windsong," Fairfield Road, Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Valentine Harvey Beaumont Boggs Chapter, it is of interest to note that J. Longdon Davis, in the Spectator, writes in glowing tribute to the excellent records made by the monks' choir of St. Pierre de Solesmes, near Solesmes, in France, of this old form of ecclesiastical music. He says this monks' choir is the recognized authority for the proper singing of these chants, a succession of scholars, of whom Dom Mocquereau is the most prominent, having fixed the tradition for all time on the basis of what seems to have been the original practice of the church. In listening one is transported to the early middle ages, and in its emotional restraint and rhythmic freedom there is a direct contrast between the Gregorian Chants and later stimulated musical religious fervor of Gounod, Mendelssohn, and their successors.

Victoria Operatic Society Plans Productions For Next Season

Over fifty members of the Victoria Operatic Society attended the meeting held yesterday evening in the new headquarters, 1240 Rockland Avenue, when it was decided to stage Humperdink's opera, "Hansel and Gretel," next December. Other plans for next season include presentation of "The Kneen of the Guard," unless this opera is included in the repertoire of the O'Joly Carte Opera Company on its suggested visit this fall, and "The Quaker Girl," which will probably be presented next spring.

To arrange for the furnishing and recondition of the new headquarters, a house committee was formed as follows: Mrs. George West (chairman), Fred Wright, Sidney Chivers, Clifford Prescott, Mrs. B. Bonner, Mrs. D. Crompton, Miss W. Sowercroft, Miss Z. Willoughby, Miss Ethel Bale, Miss D. Hamel, Miss M. Pye and Miss Gladys Elliott.

Harry J. Davis, the president, was in the chair. At the close, delicious refreshments were served, the committee acting as hosts to the members.

Los Angeles, June 21.—On the witness stand, under the gaze of the man from whom she demands $200,000 in a breach of promise action, Myrtle St. Pierre yesterday described her introduction to David Hutton before he became the husband of Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist.

Miles away, at Palma, Mrs. Hutton lay in seclusion, so ill from neurasthenia and a lingering tropical ailment that she was told the trial had been postponed.

Judge Lester W. Roth adjourned court just as Miss St. Pierre, thirty-year-old nurse, had completed the account of her meeting with the broad-shouldered baritone and was about to detail the development of their friendship.

She testified she met Hutton, then an unmarried singing teacher, at a Pasadena dinner party in January, 1921. His advance, she went on, began at once.

"Where have you kept this gorgeous creature all my life," she quoted him as asking the hostess, and declared he told her a few minutes later, "I'm not going to get very far from you. I'll be the head of your house any time you say."

From the dinner party, she proceeded, they went with several others to her home in Hollywood, where one of the men said he had two bottles of liquor if any one wished a drink.

She testified Hutton said "I do," and that, at his persuasion, she drank with him, although she seldom took intoxicants.

Miss St. Pierre filed her suit several days after Hutton and Mrs. McPherson flew to Yuma, Ariz., and were married last September.

"The Plains of Abraham"

BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD
(Copyright by Doubleday Doran Co., Inc.)

An advance of forty to fifty paces, then a pause, another advance, another pause, in the way regulars fought at that time on flat and open battlefields, and Jeems measured the distance between himself and the red line of the British. At each half he fired with his comrades, then loaded and advanced. The red line had broken precedent. It made no move to play its part in the prescribed routine of war, and continued to stand like a wall. Openings came in it where crimson blotches sank to the ground, but those who remained were unmoved and steadfast as they waited with their double-barreled guns. A tremor ran through the French, a thickening of men's breaths, a quickening of their heartbeats, a crumbling under strain, while the melody of the bell note softly over the Plains of Abraham.

They halted again less than a hundred paces away, and still England's thinning line did not fire. A man close to Jeems laughed as if nerves had cracked inside his head. Another gasped as if he had been struck. The weird sensation came over him that the firmies were not going to fight, after all.

Then he heard his name. It was his mother calling him. He answered with a cry and would have swayed toward her if hands had not dragged him back. "Mad!" he heard a voice say. He dropped his gun as he tried to wipe the blindness from his eyes. Things cleared. There were the red line, the open space, sunlight—something passing. Those who lived did not forget what they saw. England took the story home with her, France gave it a little place in her history. For a few seconds men were not looking at death but at a dog. An old, decrepit dog who limped as he walked, a dog with one foot missing.

Jeems made an effort to call. "Odd—odd—"

Then came Montcalm's command—"Forward!"

He marched with the others into the jaws of death, blind, groping, straining to make the dog hear words which never passed his lips. There was no longer a day. No sun. No red wall before him. But his ears still caught the tramp of feet and the melody of the bell. These died in a roar, the roar of double-barreled guns. England fired at forty paces, and France went down in a shapeless mass of dead.

With the front line fell Jeems.

CHAPTER XIV

It was a long time before Jeems again heard the melody of the bell. When he broke through the blackness which had overtaken him on the Plains of Abraham, he found himself in the general hospital under the care of the nuns of that institution. It seemed as if only a few minutes had passed since the crash of the English guns. But it was the middle of October. Montcalm and Wolfe were dead. Quebec lay in a mass of ruins, and England was supreme in the New World, although the battle of Saint-Foy had not been fought. From then until late in November, when he was strong enough to take advantage of the freedom of movement of the British garrison, French soldiers who had been wounded thought frequently of the three-legged dog that had passed between the French and English lines. He said nothing of the incident, not even to Mere de Saint-Claude, the Superior, who took a special interest in him, nor to any of her virgin sisters who cared for him so tenderly in the dark hours of the struggle for life and the more hopeful ones of his convalescence. Each day of increasing strength added to his suspicion that what he had seen and heard were the illusions of senses crumbling under the effects of hurt and shock, and he kept to himself whatever faith he had in them.

When at last he was able to mingle with the disarmed populace and the crowds of soldiers in the streets, he was strangely unlike the old Jeems. He had been badly wounded and realized that nothing less than a miraculous intervention, which the nuns ascribed to the mercy of God, could have kept him beyond the reach of death. A ball had passed through his shoulder when three others struck him at the discharge of the English guns. That they had failed to kill him he did not accept as a blessing. The impression grew in him that he had been very close to his mother and Toinette and that a fate not satisfied with his unhappiness had drawn him back from them. This thought established his belief that Odd's appearance as well as his mother's voice and the nearness of Toinette had been purely spiritual.

But whenever he saw a dog in the streets of Quebec he looked to see if one foot was missing.

His excursions were short and he wandered alone. He saw a number of his comrades, but they did not recognize him and he did not feel the impulse to let them know who he was. Flesh had dropped from his bones until he resembled one approaching death instead of escaping it. He walked with stooped shoulders. His eyes were sunken, and his hands, in one of which he carried a staff, were emaciated to the thinness of extreme age. The small interest life had held for him seemed to have shriveled with the strength of his body. The English reminded him, the spark, his mother's English, the half of himself which he had tried to hate. They were not acting the part of conquerors. They were unbelieveably friendly. From the gallant Brigadier Murray to the commonest soldier, they were courteous, humane, generous, dividing their rations with the starved citizens, sharing their tobacco with them, helping each day to build up ruined homes, each day working themselves deeper into the food of the world of the French, been cheated and despoiled by Governor Vaudreuil and his degenerate crowd and by the weakness of the king of France. Even the nuns and the priests welcomed them, men and women of God who for two hundred years had fought indefatigably for New France. Honor and chivalry had come to conquer Quebec and had brought the friendship for its people that a British soldier was hanged in the public square for stealing from a resident of the town.

Jeems felt this comradeship of his enemies. At first he was taciturn and aloof and talked only when courtesy required the effort of him. He observed that many eyes regarded him with a pity which added shame to the burden of his distress; and at times when he was struggling to hold his stooped shoulders erect, sympathetic hands came to help him in spite of himself. His health returned slowly, but in the second week of his freedom an incident occurred which sent a warmer glow through his veins. He heard two soldiers talking on the street. They were talking about a dog that passed in front of their line as they had stood ready to fire upon the French.

DOGDOM OF HOLLYWOOD FILM FOLK PUTS ON THE DOG—AND WITH REASON

"Gypsy" and Gordon setter "Sister" have won blue ribbons. "Ko Ko" Pili Dorsey's Sealhams, flies with her when she takes the air, and Roland Young's Russian wolfhound "Nicholas," one of the last of the Romanoff line, is with his master London-bound. He calls it "Adolphus." Jeannette MacDonald's English sheepdog, "Captain" has tea for breakfast, rice pudding for luncheon and boiled beef for dinner.

"Elmer" Buster Keaton's St. Bernard, is familiar on the MGM lot. "Chang" Neil Hamilton's red show dog, "Chang" Red Chalmers, and Connie Bennett's black Scotch and white Highland terriers, "Peter" and "Pan" are well known. Joan Crawford's "Woggie" has gone to the doghouse. As has Cecil DeMille's "Angel Face." But many remain.

"Enter" "Poochie" against all this class. The gods forbid! Anyway, Clara Bow's Great Dane won the blue ribbon last year, and what chance would poor Bob Grandon stand, especially with it a minus quantity?

Here let me digress to explain that the exhibit is the southern California Dog Show, an annual event, where the stars of screenland bring out their prize stock in world competition.

In Beverly Hills, no man can keep more than three dogs unless his residence is 150 feet from his nearest neighbor. Harold Lloyd bought a stack of acres and stocked with forty-five Great Danes valued at $50,000, costing $2,000 monthly to feed. Now, more modest, he's reduced his kennel to twelve Great Danes and four St. Bernards. He is the pioneer breeder of the colony.

Uncle Wiggily's Jolly Friends

By HOWARD H. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily stood on one hind paw in the woods, listening. His other hind paw was up in the air, ready to be put down, but just when he was going to do this to take another step, Mr. Longears heard a strange noise. That's why he stopped to listen.

The rabbit gentleman had started to take a June Walk in the woods, to gather roses for Nurse Jane and his wife. Just about the same time the Fox and the Wolf also started for their June Walk toward the Pine Woods. But the Bad Chaps were not going to look for roses. They were going to look for Uncle Wiggily. That is, the Wolf, who had a lame paw, so he couldn't run fast, went along to keep the Fox company; also to howl and make the bunny gentleman think the woods were filled with Bad Chaps.

"That certainly is a strange noise I hear," said Uncle Wiggily as he stood on one paw, still listening. As yet he knew nothing about the Fox and the Wolf, for they were hidden in the Pine Woods.

Then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily heard the sound more plainly. "Hail, hail!" he laughed as he set down his raised paw. "That is singing I hear. The voices of animal children singing. And, if I mistake not, I also hear the sound of music joining in the chorus. It is very pretty."

Louder and louder the voices sang and Uncle Wiggily was much puzzled. "For," he said to himself, if those are the voices of the girl and boy animals, singing, I must be near the Hollow Stump School. But I am not. The school is far from here. Then how is it I can hear the singing so plainly?"

At first the rabbit gentleman thought there might be some sort of magical trick about it—perhaps the voices of the animal school children when they were so far away.

Louder and louder sounded the singing voices, nearer and nearer until, looking under the trees and bushes, Uncle Wiggily saw all the pupils from the Hollow Stump School marching two by two through the forest, toward the Pine Woods where, also, he was going. And where, also, though I don't like to speak of it, were hidden the Fox and Wolf.

The Lady Mouse Teacher from the Hollow Stump School was marching in front of the children, and when she was near him, Uncle Wiggily stepped out from behind a bush and said: "Well, Lady Mouse, where are you going with the children and boys?"

"We are taking our June Walk," answered Miss Mouse.

"And were so glad we met you!" chattered Billie Bunnitail.

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?" barked Jackie Bow Wow.

"Why, I am also taking a June Walk," spoke Mr. Longears. "I always

THE SHORT NAP

Many Business Men Find That Few Minutes Sleep Will Refresh Them Amazingly

By DR. MORRIS FISHBKIN

Sleep is rest, no matter whether it is taken in large or small doses. But there are some workers who, due to long hours at the office, find it impossible to get adequate sleep at night. This is where the "nap" comes in handy.

Naps are regarded as childish by some people, but they are valuable periods of recuperation for others. These intervals of relaxation, small as they are, serve to rest the tired body and bring back to it some of the energy it has lost during the day.

Often at night, when going home from work on a street car, rapid transit or subway, you notice some man or woman peacefully slumbering. Automatically, before his or her stop is reached, the slumberer will arouse and get off.

This little nap, probably not more than a few minutes, and more often less, is enough to pep up a person and drive away that feeling of exhaustion that bears one down after a day of toil.

Several stories are told of big business men and the way they have of taking naps, or "siestas."

A New York captain of industry found that he could refresh himself after lunch by taking a "cat nap," but was at a loss to wake himself up. He solved the problem by holding a bunch of keys in his hand. As he dozed off his grip on the keys would relax. Finally, after he had fallen sound asleep, the keys would fall, the resulting jangle awakening him.

The city editor of an afternoon newspaper used another system. He found a barber shop and picked out a barber who didn't do much talking. He went there every afternoon after lunch and got a shave. As the barber worked quietly, the editor would doze off, awakening at the finish of the shave.

The nap refreshed him for his confining tasks of the afternoon.

While some people assert that sleeping in the daytime interferes with their natural slumber at night, physiologists tell us that there is no essential inherent inappropriateness in reversing the process. This is borne out in the habits of night watchmen, news- paper workers, railroad men, mail clerks, factory men on night shifts, and other workers who toil at night and sleep by day.

The nap, or "siesta," has been the universal procedure in southern countries for centuries. This period of rest, coming after lunch, generally lasts from one to two hours, and during the hottest period of the day. By resting during this time, no work is done during the hot spell and energy stored up during sleep rejuvenates the slumberer.

son visited all the more important centres of Canada and the United States, including Edmonton, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, New York and Chicago.

DOUBLE YIELD IN VIEW

Because of improved crop conditions there is a distinctly better feeling throughout the prairie provinces, Mr. Watson stated. The crops are beginning to show up well in the big grain areas, and the indications are that the crop will be double that of last year.

There seemed to be an impression in the west, he said, that from now on there would be a slow but gradual improvement in conditions, and that the whole country would react to better crops on the prairies.

In Saskatchewan, particularly, where Mr. Watson covered a large agricultural area, he found green grain above the surface, where last year drought and dust storms had wrecked the hopes of the farmers.

Mr. Watson stated that a rather striking feature of farming this season was the more extensive use of horses in connection with agricultural operations. The tractor and other mechanical apparatus is not being used so extensively this year, he said. The most general use of horses is expected to increase the demand for manual labor on the prairies.

FACING CRISIS WELL

If anything, Mr. Watson found business worse in the United States than in Canada. He explained that every- where he went in the States he found people impressed by the manner in which Great Britain and the Dominions were coming through the world economic crisis. The sentiment generally expressed across the border indicated admiration for the British people in so determinedly grappling with their problems.

The impression existed, he said, that Great Britain would be among the first of the nations to emerge from the depression and lead the world back to more prosperous times.

They were also guests at the Crystal Garden while here. Miss Brisbane and her mother met Mayor Leeming, Alderman Adam and Herbert Anson, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, whom they photographed as souvenirs of their visit.

NEWS IN BRIEF

W. E. Harper will speak over radio CFCF this evening, 7.15 o'clock, on "The Royal Society Meeting."

A membership fee of $10 in the Good Roads League of British Columbia was ordered paid by the Esquimalt Council at its meeting yesterday evening.

Engineers of the Department of Public Works are constructing a 130-foot wooden bridge at Holberg, near Cape Beale, to replace the old structure which has been condemned.

The City Council yesterday evening endorsed the aims of the Naval Dramatic Society in presenting the play, "The Middle Watch," in aid of local hospitals at the Empire Theatre shortly.

The May issue of the Hotel News carried a well-written article on "Country Life Around Victoria," supplied by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and illustrated with well-selected pictures.

Esquimalt Council finally passed its zoning by-law, with but slight amendment at its meeting yesterday evening. The by-law to exchange the Pithers-Buller Park for another tract for park purposes was also finally approved.

D. E. Whittaker, provincial assayer, was ready to examine applicants for assayers' certificates yesterday at the Parliament Buildings, but none were on hand, although due notice had been given in The British Columbia Gazette.

On the grounds they had no funds available, the Esquimalt Council yesterday evening declined with regret a request from the Victoria Day Celebration committee for a donation to assist in defraying the costs of the celebrations this year.

Removal of a rock bluff on Constantine Avenue at a cost of $10 and a net expenditure of $37.50, was approved by the Esquimalt Council yesterday evening. The removal of the rock will give access to a new lot on that street which the owners plan to erect a home.

The Kidd committee is expected to present its recommendations to Premier Tolmie at the end of the month. It was learned yesterday, Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, met the committee informally in Vancouver on Saturday afternoon, but nothing was disclosed by the members as to the contents of the much-discussed report.

With men who recently returned to the city from Eoche camp, swelling the numbers, 200 meals were served at Sunshine camp yesterday, sending the total over 33,000 since the camp started to feed hungry persons without funds. The inn is in need of provisions to meet the demand, and an appeal for vegetables and other much needed supplies is made.

Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, who returned to the city today, hopes to return to the city tomorrow, to discuss unemployment relief costs to $75,000 a month, it was learned at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. With jobs being thrown to the fruit centres and with prairie harvesting due shortly, provincial officials believe the number of men out of work will be materially reduced, thus lessening the burden on the treasury.

Leave of absence from his duties as Esquimalt Council was granted Councillor George W. Brooker by the council at its meeting yesterday evening.

William Brooker will leave for Great Britain on July 4. During his absence, Councillor Thomas Hadfield will head the finance committee, of which Councillors George W. Brooker and Philip S. Going will be members.

In Esquimalt Police Court yesterday afternoon Magistrate George Jay dismissed a charge of driving to the common danger against Bernard Kirby. The charge was laid as the result of a collision between Mr. Kirby's car and a street car on Esquimalt Road June 16 and the magistrate accepted the defendant's explanation that the accident was due to glare from the headlights of an approaching car.

A plea of guilty was entered by James Cairnie, charged in the city police court this morning with theft of a barrel of beer from the Veterans of France clubrooms, Douglas Street. An official of the club said he and other men had caught the accused rolling the barrel on the street near the club. It had been taken from the tap-room in the basement. Cairnie was remanded to to-morrow for sentence.

Evidence in the case of Young Guan Shan, Chinese, charged with selling opium, was entered in the city police court yesterday afternoon and the magistrate then reserved judgment to Wednesday morning. R.C.M.P. officers verified the accused sold a drug to a police operative on January 7. The defendant said he thought he was acting as an operative for the police when he secured the drug for the other operative.

Since the question of levying the new school tax in municipalities under powers provided at the last session of the legislature will be discussed at the forthcoming convention of the Union of Municipalities, a resolution from the Victoria Ratepayers' Association asking that the tax be levied here was referred by the City Council yesterday evening to its convention delegates. A request from the association for a vote on the question of abolition of the dental service in the schools was not dealt with as the School Board has it under consideration.

Inquiries about Victoria prompted by "Dobbie's" broadcast continue to be received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Many ask about prospects of securing farms. A Los Angeles writer says the broadcast prompted him to select Victoria for a honeymoon trip. A Britisher who formerly resided in Canada registers a complaint against the immigration authorities. He says he has been advised that he cannot be notified whether his return to Canada would be permitted unless he applies at the border and the lack of definite information has prevented him from returning.

An official dinner will be tendered the British inspection party arriving here Thursday. It was learned at the Parliament Buildings to-day. The party will be guests of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Fordham Johnson at Government House immediately after arrival. After tea they will return to the Empress Hotel to informally meet members of the government. At 7.45 o'clock the official dinner will take place in the ballroom. His honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, will represent the government, while Mayor David Leeming will represent the city. Two score men and women, representative of official, social and business circles, have been invited to the function.

TO SPONSOR AIR CIRCUS

Fifteen Planes Will Perform Thrilling Stunts at Gordon Head July 3

Fifteen airplanes which have been appearing at different points in the province under the auspices of the B.C. Air Tour Committee will offer a flying circus to mark the official opening of the Gordon Head airport on July 3 and 4. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the pageant.

A special general meeting of the junior chamber has been called for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to discuss details, and committees will be appointed. The programme calls for stunting, parachute jumping, racing, formation flying and passenger flights. Souvenir tickets to mark the event will be given to all passengers.

Considerable interest is being shown in the event, which will offer Victorians their first opportunity of seeing flying on such a scale as promised by the circus. There will be a variety of different planes, in which daring and experienced aviators promise to provide thrills for the large crowds expected at Gordon Head during the two days.

A BULL'S BRIEF MOMENT OF TRIUMPH

The camera clicked just as this unfortunate torador was catapulted into the air from the horns of a frenzied bull in a Madrid arena. Note how the animal, banded with thrust in his skin, has just stopped short in his infuriated charge with his fore hoofs trampling the cape of his human foe. The torador was severely gored.

LIBERALS BACK NEW OBJECTIVES

Support Move For General Application of Minimum Wage Act

Resolutions supporting a campaign advocating the general application of the Minimum Wage Act as a part of the Liberal platform and recommendations looking to have the Workmen's Compensation Board fix a proportionate levy on higher paid members entitled to greater compensation, featured the meeting of Ward Two, Sanich Liberals, in the Tolmie School yesterday evening.

Regarding the Minimum Wage Act, it was stated certain lumber camps on Vancouver Island were evading this.

The object of the recommendation on the Workmen's Compensation Board was to make more equitable the collection and distribution of funds to and from the board. It was pointed out that all contributors paid in the same amount. Higher paid men drew more in compensation when they were injured than did the lower paid workers who gave in as much as those who received greater benefits.

Nonnes-W. Whitaker, H. L. Briggs, president of the Sanich Liberal Association, and David Ramsay, past president, were among the speakers who touched upon the organization of the party for the nominating convention in Marigold Hall on July 5.

Resolutions drawn up by the central executive relative to unemployment and state health insurance were discussed.

E. E. Bell, president of the ward, presided at the gathering.

SALE OF BONDS IS MAINTAINED

The $145,000 mark was reached to-day in the sale of the city's debenture refunding loan issue "over the counter" at the City Hall. This represents practically three-quarters of the full amount.

Recent sales have shown to an even greater extent the number of small investors taking advantage of the profitable 6 per cent rate offered by the city, and a large number of $100 bonds have been taken up. If subscriptions continue at the present rate, the sale will close shortly, it is expected.

THREE APPEALS IN SINGLE CASE

Justices of Court of Appeal Surprised at Appeal Before Them To-day

"Confusion Worse Confounded," Says Mr. Justice Martin

Court of Appeal Justices in session here to-day expressed surprise when Harold A. Beckwith brought before them an application having to do with withdrawal and consolidation before the October Court of three appeals from the one case, that of Kusuo Fukuda, an infant of Vancouver, against the American Automobile and Fire Insurance Company, arriving out of a damage claim. Two of the appeals are from interlocutory orders issued by Chief Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court and the third having to do with the trial itself which followed and in which judgment was given before the final issue of the orders was determined.

"Three appeals from the one judgment of Chief Justice Morrison—that is an extraordinary thing on the face of it," said Mr. Justice Archer Martin. "Just think of the scandal that there are here three appeals from the one judgment. Whoever is responsible for starting this thing will have to pay for it in the long run. If you do things the proper way you don't get into trouble."

Mr. Beckwith explained he had nothing to do with it, as it all took place in Vancouver.

"I am sure, Mr. Beckwith, that if you had anything to do with it, it would not have got into such a mess," said Mr. Justice Martin.

Mr. Beckwith thanked the Justice for his complimentary remark.

Alfred Bull, counsel for the insurance company, said Chief Justice Morrison had ordered the trial to go on after he had been notified that an appeal had been launched on a former motion. However, he declared Mr. Beckwith's move now "just a ruse to gain time, and stall until autumn," as his people had not put up any security.

Mr. Justice McPhillips pointed out that when a trial comes on it supercedes everything.

"This is a case of confusion worse confounded and it is extraordinary amount of ingenuity that has been exercised," said Mr. Justice Martin. "After it had been explained that confusion arose as a result of interlocutory motions made in chambers just as the trial was getting under way. 'If the wrong procedure has been followed, this court will set it right,' he said."

The Justices, after the argument had run on for nearly an hour, ordered the first appeal dismissed, and the others consolidated with the appeal from the final judgment to come up at the autumn court.

Mr. Beckwith explained he had nothing to do with it, as it all took place in Vancouver.

"I am sure, Mr. Beckwith, that if you had anything to do with it, it would not have got into such a mess," said Mr. Justice Martin.

The remains were laid at rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The pallbearers were as follows: T. A. Green, L. Hayden, W. Bright, H. Standen, T. Callum and B. Beales.

GERMAN CRUISER LEAVES SEATTLE

After a two-week visit to Seattle, the German cruiser Karlsruhe passed off Victoria in the distance yesterday evening on her way to Portland, the next port of call on her world voyage. She reached the Columbia River port this morning. Because of a heavy mist the Karlsruhe could not be seen from the waterfront of Victoria.

Currie Jacobs Bond, seventy years old, but still writing her famous ballads and still laughing in her husky way, paid a visit to the Karlsruhe yesterday afternoon just before the big vessel pulled out from her dock. She is still tall and sturdy looking despite her three score and ten. Mrs. Bond has just written another ballad, entitled "Remembering to Forget." It is along the same lines as her famous "End of a Perfect Day," "I Love You Truly" and "Just a-Wearyin' for You."

"Torchy" Peden Now Engaged in Racing on Outdoor Tracks

Victoria Bike Star in Line for Famous Title of "Iron Man"

Schmeling and Sharkey Will Step Into Ring This Evening

Sharkey in Better Shape Than Two Years Ago; Max in Pink

AFTER a successful season in six-day racing, "Torchy" Peden, Victoria's star bicycle rider, is now engaged in racing on outdoor tracks at New York, Coney Island and Philadelphia. Peden is holding his own in these events, winning some races and losing some. Peden is also trying his hand at racing behind motor-cycles and is doing very well. Peden will continue racing on these tracks until the six-day race at Atlantic City from July 2 to 8, following which he hopes to return to Victoria for a month's rest. Godfrey Parrott, another Victoria boy, will also compete in the six-day event at Atlantic City.

The title of "Iron Man" in the six-day racing game has for years rested on the head of the veteran Reggie McNamara, Newark, N.J. McNamara headed the table of the "grinders" for a number of years, until Pete Van Kempen, the Hollander, eased him out of that position. A new aspirant for the title is Peden. Since the Montreal race of April, 1931, Peden has accounted for eight six-day races. Beginning with the Montreal race mentioned he has won events at Portland, Ore.; Montreal, in October; Minneapolis, Milwaukee, New York, Montreal, last April, and Toronto. What a rider!

Out of twenty-one races last year Peden won eight, had one second and one fourth, to lead the riders in points for the season. His points score was 44. Alfred Letourneau finished second place with 34, while Henry Lepage, Montreal, and Jan Pienburg, Holland, tied for third place, each with 21 points. The standings of the first ten riders follow:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Pts.
Peden	1	1	0	0	44
Letourneau	2	4	1	0	24
Lepage	2	3	1	0	21
Pienburg	4	0	0	1	21

These figures have been supplied by The New American Motor-cyclist and Bicyclist.

To-night Max Schmeling, German champion, and Jack Sharkey, United States challenger, step into the ring at Madison Square Garden's new Coney Island athletic bowl, for their fifteen-round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world. The fight will draw a crowd and some money, but not the money of the Rickard-Dempsey days. In fact, it looks very much as if Schmeling and Sharkey are going to fight like old-timers, for what a good tough title fight is worth, and not what a gate can be pulled up to. Perhaps they will fight like old-timers for that. The old-timers used to fight their heads off for a few thousand dollars.

It is likely there'll be a fight this time, while it lasts. Sharkey is ambitious to lead the heavyweight title because he sees no more ring money in the offering if he muffs another chance. One more miff and all the public curiosity about Jack ceases. Sharkey has been in and out of the ring the way a wild man against wild men. He was a wild man against Delaney and Loughran, alternating wild and uncertain against Dempsey, but much of anything against Stribling and Scott. He was quite tame against Walker and wild again against Carnera. Sharkey understood the game in better condition and in a better frame of mind to put up a fight than he was against Max two years ago. Then he was fat and just contemptuous enough of Schmeling's boxing to think it did not make any difference. He isn't the Sharkey of several years ago, but he has no roll of fat bulging over his belt. Sharkey never has shown physical weakness in a fight. He always has had plenty of endurance. He hasn't tired in long fights.

There is no possible doubt about Max's condition. He has always been in fighting trim, to date. He's tough and wiry and his face, with the hard, tight-drawn skin, looks like the face of a man trained for an old-fashioned finish fight. Tom Sharkey, who fought Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, and all the best of his time, used to pick his face in time for weeks before a fight, and he looked no harder than Schmeling.

Anglers Will Hold Meeting To-night

A meeting of the Victoria-Sanibel Inlet Anglers' Association will be held to-night at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting is to take up the matter of the adoption of the constitution and amendments to the rules and regulations.

The discussion of these matters will constitute the main part of the business of the evening. It is being urged upon those interested that there shall be a very full representation present.

The meeting will be presided over by E. L. Tait, president of the organization.

Both Fighters Are In Fine Shape For Fifteen-round Bout

Odds on Schmeling Remain at 6 to 5, Although Several Betting Commissioners Offer 11 to 10 With Your Own Selection; Gross Receipts Forecast at $400,000; Sharkey Will Get Only Ten Per Cent; Will Be Jack's Last Chance at Title; Schmeling Is Much Improved Since Their Meeting Two Years Ago When Max Won on a Foul

New York, June 21.—For glory, honor and comparatively little cash Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey will meet in a fifteen-round heavyweight championship bout in Long Island City to-night.

William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, which is promoting the match in the new outdoor arena on Long Island, predicts gross receipts in the neighborhood of $400,000. Even that figure seems trifling when viewed from the point of view of the million-dollar gates of the Dempsey era.

GOOD WEATHER FOR BIG FIGHT

New York, June 21.—Cloudy, warm weather, with only an outside threat of showers was predicted by the weather bureau for the fifteen-round, heavyweight, championship fight to-night between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey.

The sky was partly overcast, but Dr. James Kimball said it was probable the evening would pass without a shower.

The temperature at fight time should be around 70 degrees, he said.

The odds continued at 6 to 5 with Schmeling a favorite, although some betting commissioners were quoting 11 to 10 and take your pick. Odds against a knockout by either man were 3 to 1.

Both Schmeling and Sharkey came down from their training camps in upper New York state in excellent condition.

The Teuton has come far since that June night two years ago when Sharkey battered him around for three rounds and then fouled him into the championship in the fourth.

Now he is a champion in fact as well as name, a punishing hitter with either hand, a much more elusive target than he used to be, and still gifted with amazing endurance.

The Boston tar simply cannot afford to lose. He is getting only 10 per cent of the receipts, hardly enough to pay for his training expenses, but he wants the title. This may be his last chance. Time after time he has been knocking at the door to the heavyweight throne only to find it closed to him through his own erratic performance.

Although the bowl will seat 71,872 persons, not more than 55,000 or 60,000 are expected to-night. There may not be that many even though there are more than 48,000 in at from $2 to $5 plus tax. Top price for choice ringside positions is $10.

Plan Big Track Meet For July 1

Preparations Being Made for Cinder Artists' Events on Dominion Day; Tentative Programme for Meet Announced; Definite Decision To-night

Victoria will provide sport followers here with a smart track meet as one of the afternoon attractions on the Dominion Day programme, if plans now being considered by the committee in charge of the celebrations are brought to successful conclusions. Officials of the Sons of Canada who are giving the meet their attention were optimistic to-day over the possibility of staging the event and were scheduled to make a definite decision on the matter this evening.

According to plans already drawn up, the track and field sports will be held in the Royal Athletic Park during the afternoon of July 1. Amateur competitors from all over the province will be eligible for the different events, providing they hold cards. These would not be necessary for the juniors, it was understood.

The object of the meet will be to provide not only a good programme for the followers of the cinder sport, but also to give local track and field aspirants an opportunity to test their strength.

The suggested programme for the meet follows:

SENIOR MEN
100 yards dash	220 yards dash	440 yards run	High jump
WOMEN
100 yards dash	220 yards dash	440 yards run	High jump
PUBLIC SCHOOL RELAYS
Girls, 400 relay, four to a team, 110 yards, each	Boys, 440 relay, four to a team, 100 yards, each	Prizes will be given for first, second and third finishers in all events but the relays.

Courtenay Will Stage Marathon

One of the chief events of the Dominion Day sports at Courtenay on July 1 will be a marathon open to long distance runners of Vancouver Island. The course will lie from Lewis Park over Swish Hill and back by Sandwick, the runners being in sight of the spectators over most of the seven and one-half mile course. A handsome challenge cup has been offered by the winner, along with gold, silver and bronze medals. Entries should be made to Ben Hughes, Dominion Day sports committee, Courtenay. No entrance fee will be charged.

Boston Sox Well On Their Way To Games Lost Mark

Have Won Only Eleven Games Against Forty-seven Defeats and Threaten Record of Cleveland National League Club in 1899 With Twenty Games Won and 134 Lost; Yanks Retain Lead by Defeating St. Louis 3 to 1; Athletics Snow Chicago Under Barrage of Hits

Boston Red Sox may crack the all-time major league mark for games lost in a season. The Sox have won just eleven contests against forty-seven defeats for a percentage of .190 in the American League. In 1899, Philadelphia Americans finished with thirty-six wins and 117 losses, while in 1899, the Cleveland club of the old National League set the all-time record with only twenty wins and 134 lost over the full season.

Boston dropped their opener to Detroit yesterday, 6 to 4. Three runs in the first inning edged it up for the Tigers. The New York Yankees, kept intact their seven and one-half game lead over the field by beating St. Louis, 3 to 1.

Some sterling pitching by Van Mungo, place a home run by Al Lopez, in the fourth frame, and a single by Joe Stripp in the seventh enabled Brooklyn to nose out Pittsburgh, 2 to 1. The St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants were not scheduled.

St. Louis, June 21.—Wally Harbert gave Vernon Gomez a powerful argument for nine innings yesterday, but in the seventh, home runs by the Yankees sent him packing. The Yankees won their thirteenth triumph in fourteen games this season.

Gomez gave the Browns only three hits, widely scattered blows, while his teammates were able to bunch two of their four blows off Herbert in the seventh inning for the winning runs. Bill Dickey's single after Babe Ruth had singled and Gehrig had drawn a base on balls, broke up the contest.

In subduing the Browns, the Yankee southpaw struck out eight batters, running his total for the season to twenty-eight. The victory was his tenth straight and his fourth straight in the west.

GOLF GREENS ARE GUARDED

Gamblers Threaten to Ruin Fresh Meadow Club Course, Scene of U.S. Open

Trouble Starts When Speculators Refused Permission to Conduct Betting

Flushing, N.Y., June 21.—Police, acting on threats made by gamblers, yesterday stood guard over the greens on the Fresh Meadow Country Club's course, where the United States open golf championship will be played, starting Thursday.

The gamblers, said to be from Boston, threatened to ruin the velvet putting surfaces when their demands for permission to install a battery of part-mutuel betting machines for the tournament were indignantly refused by club officials. The gamblers, it was said, had offered to pay the club a certain percentage of the amounts bet daily on the field, which includes some of the greatest golfers in the world.

ESTABLISHED ODDS.—The gamblers, who appeared well posted on golf, had evidently given their betting plans great thought. They had prepared a long list of odds, including combinations in which Billy Burke, defending champion, and Gene Sarazen, new British open titlist, were joint, 6 to 1 favorites.

Professional and amateur golfers swarmed over the course yesterday, preparing for the opening of the championship play.

Johnny Goodman, who eliminated Bobby Jones in the first round of the 1929 amateur championship, turned in the best practice round of the amateurs, turning in an eighteen-hole card of 72, two strokes over par.

Cleveland, June 21.—The merciful Cleveland Indians bobbed down again into fifth place in the American League standings yesterday when Alvin Dark pitched the Washington Senators to a 5 to 2 victory.

Senators' pitcher, Fred Foulke, pitched a 9 to 2 victory over the Cleveland Indians, who now have five defeats against his twelve victories.

Washington, June 21.—Paul Andrews allowed three hits and a walk in two-thirds of a first inning yesterday, and Detroit defeated the Boston Red Sox in a series opener, 6 to 1.

Andrews was succeeded by Eddie Durham, who gave way to Jablonowski in the fifth after he had hurt his foot. Earl Whitcomb pitched through for Detroit and allowed ten hits, while his teammates were collecting seven hits.

Marty McManus, new Sox manager, argued a close decision at first base so fiercely that umpire Owens sent him from the coaching box to the show, and in the next inning Warfield, Sox shortstop, followed him for a similar offence.

Boston, June 21.—The Yankees gave the Browns a powerful argument for nine innings yesterday, but in the seventh, home runs by the Yankees sent him packing. The Yankees won their thirteenth triumph in fourteen games this season.

Rain Spoils Cricket Exhibition With Australian Team

Visitors Lose Six Men For 161 Runs Against Islanders

Richardson, "Aussie" Captain, Makes Duck and McCabe, Great All-rounder, Is Bowled by Youthful Dyson as Team Shows Sportsmanship in Going Out to Bat in Drizzle Yesterday; Vancouver Island Bats First and Scores 83 for Twelve Wickets, Rev. F. Comley Being Top Scorer

Playing in a continual drizzle, which sometimes turned into a real rain, Australia and Vancouver Island staged an unsuccessful attempt to beat the weather and put on a satisfactory cricket exhibition at the University School grounds yesterday afternoon.

The Islanders, batting more than the usual number of men, scored 83 for twelve wickets under an hour, before the game was halted for two hours because of the weather. Then the Australians came in to bat, replying with 161 for six wickets in not much over an hour. The game was abandoned an hour before the scheduled closing time of 7:45 o'clock.

Rev. F. Comley, who went in first wicket down, was the bright light of the island batsmen, his top score innings of 16 being a mild feature of what otherwise was an uneventful cricket. Comley, 13 not out, and Kinch, 11, were the only other double-figure men among the Islanders.

RICHARDSON GETS "DUCK"

Features of the Australian innings were the dismissal of Richardson, the captain, for a duck, and the bowling of McCabe, the great all-rounder, by Dyson, a Shawigan Lake School boy. Dyson had the distinction of being the first bowler to actually hit the wicket of an Australian in Victoria.

In fairness to the Australians, whose score for such a team was unusually low, it must be said they were in to bat when most teams would have declined to do so because of the rain, the bad condition of the wicket and the poor light, and that their batsmen were hit out to live up to the day a bit for the spectators, and took chances with the bowling in order to give their teammates a chance with the bat.

At 2:30 o'clock the Australians took the field under depressing weather conditions. McCabe, who has opened the bowling for Australia against England, started at the south end against Eric Quinton, Quainton hit a three off McCabe's fifth ball and Wenman, who was the other lead batsman, scored two on the eighth and last ball of the over.

Kippax caught Quinton when the islander mis-timed the last ball of Ives's opening over. Comley joined Wenman, who was caught by Kippax on the second ball of Ives's second over. The scoreboard read 16-2-9. Wenman made nine.

McCabe bowled a maiden over to Andrews, who joined Comley, and Comley spoilt Ives's maiden over by hitting for four on the last ball. It was the first boundary and brought Comley's total to ten.

McCabe nicked Andrews's wicket on the fourth ball of his next over, fourth over. Three wickets were down for 29. Malley went on for Ives at the north end. His maiden was spoilt when Ives replaced him. He replaced Andrews at bat, hit the last ball to leg for a boundary. A neat leg break on McCabe's fourth ball of his next over took Hanson's wicket. It was the first boundary and brought Comley's total to ten.

McCabe bowled a maiden over to Andrews, who joined Comley, and Comley spoilt Ives's maiden over by hitting for four on the last ball. It was the first boundary and brought Comley's total to ten.

AGGRESSIVE TACTICS

Meredith, who replaced Poynts, hit for three on the first ball he got from Malley and showed aggressive tactics throughout his short innings. On Malley's seventh ball, Comley was caught by Richardson, who had been deliberately waiting for this batsman close in on the leg side. Comley made 16.

Sharland, the young Brentwood College player, broke his duck on the last ball of this same over of Malley's and hit the third ball of McCabe's the following over, for two before being caught by Richardson on the fifth. Seven wickets were down for 48.

U.S. TENNIS PLAYERS WIN

Shields, Vines, Allison and Van Ryn Capture Matches at Wimbledon

Wimbledon, Eng., June 21.—Frank Shields of the United States Davis Cup squad to-day won his first match in the English tennis championships, defeating Pierre Grandguillot, Egypt, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

Eliworth Vines, United States singles champion, was carried to four sets before he managed to eliminate H. S. Burrows, England, 6-1, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. It was a second round match.

G. E. Tuckett, unranked English player, thrilled the galleries with the battle he put up against Wilmer Allison, another member of the United States Davis Cup squad. In a second round match, Tuckett carried the American to five hard sets, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

John Van Ryn won from C. H. Kingsley, English player, 6-3, 7-5, 2-6, 6-6.

TO COMPLETE WORK AT PARK

Expenditure of a further $305 on improvements to the Royal Athletic Park to make the new grandstand safe, both from a sanitary and safety standpoint, was authorized by the City Council yesterday evening. Cost of moving and stand to a new location and improving the park has already exceeded the original estimate by a considerable amount.

The work involves installation of toilets and a gangway for the exit. Mayor Leeming declared the work at the park was "costing more all the time."

Dempsey Expects A Great Battle Will Broadcast To-night's Bout

Reno, Nev., June 21.—"In my opinion, Sharkey is the better boxer, with a light edge due to his ring experience. Schmeling is the stronger of the two and has a bulldog tenacity. I believe the fight going the full distance would favor Schmeling. All in all, it should be a great battle." This is what Jack Dempsey said here yesterday when asked about to-night's bout.

Follow Cooper On Mashie Swing By JOE GLASS

As has been frequently pointed out, the mashie shot must be controlled. So an exaggerated swing won't do. None of the great stars flatten the mashie at the top of the swing into a horizontal position unless they are trying for all the distance the club can obtain.

The pivot even for the full mashie is limited to the hips and is curtailed in them. But, duffers, eager to hit the ball, frequently let the arms go on back despite the body's position. Coordination is thus destroyed. The body starts through with the forward swing before the arms do. They never catch up and trouble results—probably a slice.

Study the drawings of Harry Cooper, Bill Mehlhorn and Tommy Armour, all of them marvels with the mashie. These will give you a good idea of the limit of a controlled mashie backswing. Mehlhorn goes up a bit more than the others.

Gains To Battle Schmeling If He Defeats Sharkey

Canadian Negro Heavyweight and Holder of British Empire Championship Will Get Title Bout With German, Providing Max Wins To-night; Gains Knocked Out Schmeling Five Years Ago in Germany; Tommy Burns Was Last Canadian to Hold Crown

Toronto, June 21.—For the second time in the history of this young Dominion, a Canadian is drawing near the top of the world heavyweight boxing ladder. Larry Gains, Toronto-born negro fighter, will meet Max Schmeling with the world title at stake, should the husky German win his bout to-night with Jack Sharkey.

Some five years ago, before Schmeling developed the ring craft which lifted him to the top of the heap, Larry met him in a bout in Germany and knocked him out after giving him a thorough boxing lesson. Word that the pair would likely meet again came from London yesterday in cable messages that Schmeling's manager had agreed to terms for a fight there.

Prospects of the fight recall that a Canadian once fought for and won the heavyweight crown. Tommy Burns, who first saw the light of day at Hanover, Ont., is the only Canadian to have reached the flat-top pinnacle. He succeeded to Jim Jeffries's title after the latter retired and renounced his claim. Burns defeated Marvin Hart, another titular contender, in 1906. He lifted the claim with that victory but eventually was sent into the shades of comparative oblivion when he lost in Australia to Jack Johnson, last colored fighter to sit on the heavyweight throne.

WHIPPED CARNER

The man who aspires to step into Burns's shoes has fought most of his battles in Great Britain and Europe. One of the best performances of his career came last month when he out-pointed Primo Carnera in a ten-round bout at London in which the sampling Alp found the Toronto man's speed an unsolvable riddle.

Gains now holds the heavyweight title of the British Empire, having won it by defeating Dan MacCordindale, South African champion, last spring.

BIGGER SHARE IS B.O.'S AIM

Province's Lumber Case Is Completed For Imperial Economic Conference

Quota For British Buyers and New Duties Held Key to Revival Here

British Columbia's case for an increased share of the lumber market at Ottawa has been completed for submission to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

The four chief points of the British Columbia case are:

1. Establishment of an import quota in the United Kingdom under which this Dominion would have a specific objective.
2. Twenty instead of ten per cent preference on Empire lumber entering the Old Country.
3. Increase in special preference on manufactured goods, such as other partly-manufactured wood products, to permit of successful participation by the Canadian lumber trade.
4. Increase in the federal subsidy on lumber shipments to China, to be applicable to three sailings a month from British Columbia. This subsidy is to supplant the subsidy agreement expiring in July.

The case was completed at the Parliament Buildings at Victoria attended by Loren L. Brown, who is the provincial timber trades commissioner in England, and T. H. Wilkinson and G. R. Hackett, lumber market experts from Vancouver.

It was said that all the timber and lumber interests of Canada would present a united front at Ottawa in order to gain control of a greater part of the British market and out other countries from which British importers are now buying.

The present ten per cent preference in Britain means $20,000 a month to British Columbia, it was explained. It was also asserted that if the quota program could be put through, by which British buyers would be compelled to buy one-third of their normal requirements from this country, British Columbia could count on building up its lumber exports to between 800,000,000 and 1,000,000,000 feet a year to Britain, as against 80,000,000 feet shipped from British Columbia to Britain in 1931.

SUBSIDY FOR ORIENTAL MARKET

Those at the meeting also stated that return of prosperity to the British Columbia industry could be assisted greatly by federal subsidies to enable the British Columbia lumbermen to go after the China market in a big way by equalizing transport costs to Canadian shippers. They said that the Japanese and Manchurian trade was now cut off for British Columbia because of the new high Japanese tariffs.

It was declared that the outlay the Dominion Government would make by way of subsidy for forest help to the British Columbia lumber industry would relieve unemployment here and thus also lighten the relief burden.

$7,335 VERDICT ON STAMP FRAUD

New York, June 21.—A verdict for $7,335 in favor of Albany R. Troughton against J. Murray Bartels, postage stamp dealer of 16 Nassau Street, was handed down by Supreme Court Justice Samuel Rosenman in the suit for $9,800 damages brought by Mr. Troughton on the plea that Mr. Bartels obtained by unfair methods for $200 a rare postage stamp alleged to be worth $10,000. It is said to be the largest verdict ever awarded in this country against a stamp dealer.

The case involved one of the greatest philatelic finds of recent years. The stamp upon which the suit was based was a copy of the Baltimore "Postmaster" 10-cent provisional issue of 1945, used on a letter sent from Baltimore in 1847 by James W. Wallack, the actor, to Benjamin Webster in London, who for more than twenty-five years was one of the leading theatrical managers in England. At the time the stamp was discovered, early in 1928, it was the fourth copy then known of that value on white paper.

The stamp was discovered by Mr. Troughton among some old papers of his father, the Rev. W. Troughton, Bishop of Montreal, in Massachusetts. The younger Mr. Troughton lives in Toronto. He gave the Baltimore envelope stamp to his wife in March, 1929. She was going to New York to visit her mother, Mrs. Jean Erskine. He suggested that she ascertain its value from New York stamp dealers.

Mrs. Erskine said at the trial that

Absence of Support Sends Wheat Prices Down At Winnipeg

Winnipeg, June 21.—Lack of support in the face of heavy selling from Chicago in the waning hours of to-day's market gave a downward turn to wheat prices today. Prices at the close were 1/2 to 1/4 lower.

July closed 1/2 to 1/4, October dropped 1/2 to 1/4, and December declined 1/2 to 1/4 to close at 57 1/2.

Export trade worked overnight and during the session was disappointing. With support on the light side, their appearance to be no resistance available to take care of the burst of selling near the close.

The market was one of the narrowest of the season and through much of the session trade was at a standstill. There was no pressure to sell and little disposition to buy. Going into effect of the new sales tax in Chicago has practically eliminated spreading with that market.

Reports to-day from Minnesota and the Dakotas told of damage from an increasing grasshopper menace. Congress is being petitioned for assistance to fight the pests.

A call for No. 2 northern to complete export cargo featured cash wheat trade. Spreads were unchanged. Coarse grains were dull with prices moving within a narrow range.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, June 21.—The wheat market was a dull featureless affair again to-day. There was an absence of outside interest and practically no export business worked overnight. During the greater part of the day the market held very firm with prices after a slight opening dip making gains of 1/4 to 1/2 over the previous close, the new crop futures being the strongest.

The principal feature was perhaps the new light offerings and with Chicago a little firmer local were buying for a scalp and probably became a little overbought near the close. Chicago commenced a little selling in this market and with the small long interest being forced to liquidate prices receded about one cent from the high marks getting down into the daily bids where sufficient support developed to check further declines.

There was a slow demand for cash grain very little changing hands. Offerings not pressing and all spreads held fairly steady to unchanged. The heavy rains received in winter wheat territory the past two days appear to be the chief cause of the upturn but Chicago reported that professional interest was selling in the late trade on the more favorable weather forecast for the southwest.

Export sales for North American wheat continued extremely disappointing and the foreigner has been practically out of these markets since the good buying of two weeks ago and only takes a few scattered loads from time to time and shows no inclination whatever to follow the slight upturn.

Increased in the sales in the futures imposed by Congress has more or less killed trading at Chicago and other American markets. It is said that this bill will go directly back to the farmers and is a tax on foodstuffs and necessities of life.

Winnipeg closed 1/2 to 1/4 lower. Coarse grains—These markets were extremely quiet to-day with practically nothing in the way of business going on. While offerings were not heavy the market showed a little with lack of any support.

Oats closed 1/4 up to 1/2 lower; barley 1/4 to 1/2 unchanged; rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower; flax 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

Liverpool due 1/2 lower on Winnipeg.

Women Should Keep Themselves "Sold" to Their Husbands As "Extra Fancy"—High School Diploma Should Come Ahead of Marriage Idea In Boy's Mind—Girls, Shun Male Deadheads

DEAR MISS DIX—Wives are always complaining that their husbands are poor performers in sentimental roles. They may be as far as their wives are concerned, but what do their stenographers and other ATTRACTIVE women think of them? When he is thrown in contact with an attractive woman, not necessarily a young one, the average husband is quick to take advantage of the situation if they are alone. Why is this? How come? Why is a man who is content to furnish his wife with strings of pearls and Paris frocks, but seldom shows her a sign of affection, so anxious to put his arms around other women and start in where Clark Gable leaves off in the movies? There must be a reason.

Of course, stenographers must as part of their job always LOOK ATTRACTIVE. They quickly learn to SMILE when the boss is irritable. And SYMPATHIZE with him. When he visits a night club the hostess gives him a WARM welcome and shows that she APPRECIATES his coming. Also, she hands out an agreeable line of chatter. Now the wife has everything in the way of charm that the vamp has, but Friend Husband does not know it. How would it be if some of your near and dear would take a few leaves out of the husband-matcher's book? ONE WHO KNOWS.

Answer—I think it would be great stuff, and it is a recommendation that I have frequently made in this column. For when a wife loses her husband to another woman it is nearly always because she was too lazy or stupid to keep the goods in her show window looking attractive and desirable, or she did not know how to sell herself to her husband.

The woman who loses her husband always claims, as her alibi, that the OTHER WOMAN was much younger than she, or of surpassing beauty, or else a siren who threw a spell about him that no man could resist. But this is not the case very often. Generally when we see the vamp who has broken up the home of one of our lady friends we are amazed to discover that there is nothing about her, so far as her personal appearance goes, to explain any man's infatuation, or why any man would jump the bars and go through the mess of a scandal for her.

Very often the Lady Love is as old as the wife and not so good looking or attractive, and then the question becomes, "Why did the man prefer her to his lawful wife?" Wives profess to find this a great mystery, but, in reality, there is not one of them so dull that she cannot solve it.

For every woman knows the things that attract men, or else they would never get married in the first place and they also know that they only have to go on practicing what they know to hold their husbands.

For in the vamps' book there are no secrets. A man's eye is always caught by an attractive-looking woman. She need not be beautiful, but she must be neat and well groomed. And he likes a jolly woman who smiles and laughs and is easy to get along with. And he likes to be interested and amused. And he likes for a woman to flatter him and tell him how handsome and big and strong and wise he is, and it is because the office wife makes herself more agreeable and easier on the eyes than the home wife that she gets more kisses and those of a warmer temperature.

And a man hates to be nagged and told about his faults and his shortcomings, and he is bored by a wife who is peevish and fretful, and he does not get any kick out of going out with a wife who does not play up to him and make love to him and make him feel as if he were a sheik, and that is why so many husbands wander away from home and get lost, strayed or stolen.

If a wife was always trying to catch her husband, she would never lose him.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—If a boy loves a girl, could she be the cause of his wanting to quit high school and go to work so that he could marry? That's my fix. The girl tells me not to take her seriously at present and to continue my schooling, but although I am a youngster I have marriage in mind. I think about her continually. I cannot concentrate on my work and am not the student I used to be and I want to quit school and go to work so that I can get married. Am I right or wrong? A WORRIED KID.

Answer—A girl can do anything to a boy, son. She can twist him around her finger and reverse his every idea and change his every hope and plan. She can make him or mar him. And you are lucky that you have fallen in love with a girl who seems to be of the right sort and who has more sense and judgment than you have.

Take her advice and go on with your education. You will regret it if you do not because knowledge is a tool with which you will have to carve out your future, and the better and the stronger that is the more fitted you will be to do something worth while, and the more you will have to give to the woman you love.

If you stop school before you are through high, you will seriously handicap yourself because the very first question that any employer will ask you is how much schooling you have had and whether you graduated from high school or not. And you know, without my telling you, that unless you have a certain amount of education, you will always have to take poor jobs.

Your little sweetheart is wise in telling you not to take your boy-and-girl love affair seriously. You are too young to decide such an important question as picking out your lifemate, or to assume the responsibilities of marriage. Let that wait until you are man-grown and in a position to take care of a family, and just play around now for a while and let romance wait. And if you really love the girl and want to get married, study hard and make something of yourself.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—We are four working girls, good enough looking, and have a good many friends. But we want to ask you what you think of boys who come to our homes, eat our refreshments and listen to our radios and never offer to take us out even to the movies or put themselves out to entertain us in return. We are not gold diggers, but we think that boys who care enough for us to spend their time with us could spend something besides time once in a while, and we are fed up with men who have the "I'm-here-what-more-could-you-want" attitude. What do you say? FOUR GIRLS.

Answer—I think they are just social deadbeats and the sooner you give them the air, the better. There are a lot of boys who graft on girls. They eat a girl's food. They camp on her chairs. They use a girl's car and let her father buy the gasoline. They let her buy the theatre tickets. And they never make the slightest return. Often they will not even ask her a cut-in at a dance that some other girl's mother has given.

The male parasite is the most contemptible of all men. Don't waste your time on him.

THE LAST ARROW

A little more than two centuries ago, a young Mohawk chief lay sleeping peacefully in an Indian village. His name was Kiodago, and he was the proud husband of a half-breed girl. Kiodago was happy, and so was his wife; but they little dreamed that their village was doomed to attack that night.

The French were enemies of the Mohawks, and a party of soldiers had set out to attack them. One purpose was to "teach a lesson" to the Indians and another purpose was to recover the half-breed girl, who had once dwelt in Quebec. The French were guided by a Dutchman named Hanyest. He had lived among the Mohawks and had pretended to be their friend. Now he had turned traitor to them.

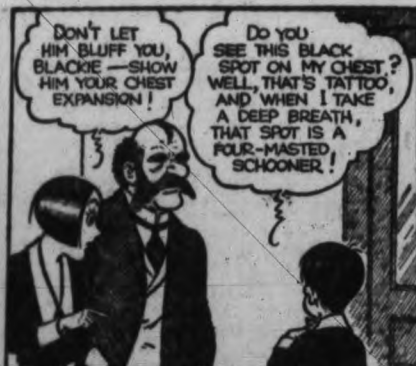

A French soldier threw a grenade among the wooden lodges. It burst, and set fire to the wickerwork. Soon the smoke and flame brought the warriors to their senses. They grasped their weapons and fought to save themselves from death.

Among the fighting red men was the young chief, Kiodago. By the light of the burning village, he struggled with the foe. His young wife ran to his side, bearing their infant child. In the heat of the fight, Kiodago turned and saw that he had been cut off from his fellow warriors. There was but one chance of escape, and that lay among a trail to the cliffs above. Kiodago sped up the trail, with his wife and child just ahead of him. A band of Frenchmen started in pursuit. With them was Hanyest, the traitor guide. Kiodago was well ahead of the soldiers, but suddenly he heard a cry of fear from his wife. She had come to a ledge of rock which she could not climb. The chief ran to her, and helped her and the babe to the top of the ledge. Then he turned and saw his foe below. There were three arrows in his quiver. He must make each one count. The first two brought down two Frenchmen. Kiodago was making ready to fire the third, when a bullet from the Dutchman's gun split his thumb. The last arrow—yes, it must be fired. The Mohawk saw the man who had led the whites to the sleeping village. Holding the arrow between two fingers, Kiodago aimed it carefully and let it fly. Hanyest fell, and as he fell he dragged two of the soldiers down. Thus freed of pursuit, the young chief escaped with his wife and child to the safety of a cave.

To-morrow—An Hour of Fear.

FIRE CHIEF'S BODY LOCATED

Found Between Ill-fated Cymbeline and Drydock in Montreal Harbor

Montreal, June 21.—The body of Fire Chief Raoul Gauthier, missing since Friday, when violent explosions blew up the oil tanker Cymbeline in Montreal Harbor, was recovered early today. It had been lying in the water between the Cymbeline and the drydock.

The face and hands were burned and the body badly swollen.

Only one body had still to be recovered to-day—that of H. Legge, a workman.

Arrangements are under way to pay an official tribute to a civic funeral to the heroic fireman who gave his life in an attempt to save some of the twenty-three Canadian Vickers Limited workmen who perished in the explosions and fire.

Look For Sixteen Ships At Churchill

If 4,000,000 Bushels to Be Shipped From Northern Port, Large Fleet Will Be Needed

Ss. Pennyworth Will Be First Ship and Will Sail From England July 15

Winnipeg, June 21.—Churchill, the seaport of the north and prairie Canada's ocean gateway to the markets of Europe, will be a world-recognized port in a very few years in the opinion of W. H. Harling, Montreal shipping agent.

Already, he said in an interview here, insurance rates for the Hudson Bay navigation season are on an equitable basis, and will grow progressively lower as the volume of business increases.

Insurance underwriters are quoting lower rates this year than last, when two trial grain shipments were successfully made from Churchill.

More than 1,000,000 bushels of Saskatchewan grain are stored in the year-old government elevator on Hudson Bay and within a few days this figure will be swelled to the elevator's 3,000,000-bushel capacity.

Mr. Harling is confident at least 4,000,000 bushels will be shipped via the northern route this summer.

Definite sailing of the first ship to enter Churchill with commercial cargo was announced by the Montreal agent. The Pennyworth, he said, is to leave Newcastle-on-Tyne July 15, making stops at Antwerp and Liverpool before crossing the Atlantic and entering Hudson Straits. It will deliver a mixed cargo at Churchill early in August.

But the Pennyworth would be only one of a formidable fleet of ships to visit Churchill during August and September if arrangements are completed for shipping 4,000,000 bushels of western grain to Europe via the northern route. At least sixteen ships would be used to carry this amount.

"Churchill is going through now just what Vancouver experienced some years ago," Mr. Harling said. "Vancouver had precisely the same difficulties in getting shippers to use its facilities. To-day Vancouver is an accepted fact in the trade."

Grain from the greater part of Saskatchewan and northern Alberta can be shipped to Liverpool at lower cost via Churchill than by the rail route and then ocean route from Montreal, asserted Mr. Harling.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD TRAVELS ALONE

Crossed Atlantic to Join Father in Toronto; Ships at Montreal From Europe

Montreal, June 21.—A four-year-old boy from England traveled alone across the Atlantic by the White Star liner Laurentic, which reached here Saturday, to join his father in Toronto. He was put in the care of the chief stewardess, but he was not at all frightened during the voyage.

He was a member of a small party of women and children whose menfolk have come to Canada recently and succeeded in getting steady positions, mostly on farms in Ontario. The party, which arrived on the Laurentic, and which was the second to be brought out to Montreal since the opening of navigation, was under the auspices of the British Dominion's Emigration Society.

The society advance the money for these families to join their menfolk, after careful enquiry from the Canadian authorities as to the abilities of the breadwinners to support them in this country.

Sir Percy Sherwood, C.M.G., M.V.O., former chief executive of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was a passenger on the Canadian Pacific liner Montreal which arrived here Sunday from Hamburg, Southampton and Cherbourg. He was accompanied by Lady Sherwood, and will make an extensive tour of Canada, going as far as the Pacific Coast.

His son, the Duke of York and Duchess of Richmond reached Montreal over the week-end. Passengers aboard the Richmond included J. Forsyth Smith of London, Canadian Government Freight Commissioner there. He left immediately for Ottawa, where he has much work preparatory to the opening of the Imperial Conference there next month.

ACCIDENT MARS CRICKET MATCH

In saving a child from possible serious injury by a ball hit hard to the boundary by McCabe, Australian batsman, Mrs. J. A. John, wife of one of the up-and-coming players, had her leg broken during the cricket game at Dun-cun Friday.

As a token of their regret, the Australians forwarded a bouquet of roses and maidenhair ferns to Mrs. John through their manager, Arthur Malley. The bouquet, done in the form of a boomerang, was presented to the Australian lady living in Victoria, and with her consent was forwarded to the unfortunate Cowichan lady.

LIQUOR REVENUE SHOWS DECREASE

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 21.—Total Dominion revenue derived from the manufacture and sale of liquor last year amounted to $43,263,871, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This total was a decline of $13,000,000 from the previous year, and of $16,000,000 from the peak year of 1920.

Customs duties on imported liquor formed the major portion of the amount, these totaling $20,093,556. Excise duties on liquor of domestic manufacture amounted to $12,198,772, while excise taxes—the sales tax, etc.—produced $6,803,692. On salt the excise duty brought a revenue in 1930 of $4,138,910.

WANT WHITE SHIP CREWS

North Vancouver, June 21.—The North Vancouver City Council yesterday evening endorsed a protest submitted by a delegation from the Canadian Association of Seamen regarding employment of Orientals on ships of Canadian registry, and will send a letter to the federal government supporting the association. At least 2,000 white seamen, comprising stewards, cooks, mess, firemen and other men, are walking the streets, and the majority of them are on unemployment relief, the council was told.

The association had learned, it was said, that recently fifteen children of unemployed seamen had been admitted to a Vancouver hospital suffering from lack of food, and seventy-three seamen had last week traveled east on a freight train from Vancouver in search of employment.

COAST VESSELS ARE OVERHAULED

Coast ships are now receiving annual overhaul in Esquimalt harbor. The C.P.R. steamer Princess Victoria came out of the government drydock yesterday, and is returning to the inner harbor. On Friday she will start her season's activities opposite the Princess Elaine on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run.

The Motor Princess was put on the marine slipway at the Yarrow plant in Esquimalt harbor yesterday afternoon. She is being groomed for her season between Sidney and Stevenson, which will also be started on Friday.

This morning the St. Princess Mary was put into the drydock for inspection and overhaul. The Victoria Machinery Dept. is doing work on the Mary.

The freighter Mogul from Vancouver will be here to-morrow to enter the government basin for annual overhaul. She is the last of the Convoy Steamship and Barge Company. Yarrow Limited will do the work on the Mogul.
